All-American Dairy Show: Best Ever

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Pennsylvania's Samuel Hayes Jr., secretary of agriculture, said the All-American dairy show set to start today and run through next Thursday is the best ever.

And he has these facts to prove it. Animal entries are up 26 percent to 2,900 head. Individual exhibitor numbers are up 40 percent. The number of states represented is 21, up 50 percent from last year. And the total premiums to be paid out are now $146,000, up 82 percent.

This was all made clear at a press conference in the Farm Show building Tuesday morning. And along with these glowing reports of big increases, Hayes unveiled the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's (PDA's) new bulk milk tank calibration program.

A bright new tractor trailer truck was on display that takes this free service from PDA and the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board to independent farmers or other dairymen who want to be sure they are receiving proper milk weights from their bulk milk tanks. A previous, similar service was abandoned by PDA in 1990 because of a lack of funds. The new test unit required an investment of $149,125 by PDA.

Tanks of water on-board are run into the farm bulk tank through a computer calibration system from the mobile test unit. Guidelines set by the state government's division of weights and measures are used as standard. The Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board provides the operator.

An All-American event schedule and other related stories can be found elsewhere in this issue.

MMB Schedules Emergency Hearing To Consider Increase In Over-Order Premium

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Milk Marketing Board (MMB) will conduct a public hearing for Milk Marketing Areas 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 on Oct. 4 at 10 a.m. here in Room 202 of the Agriculture Building, 2301 North Cameron Street.

Dairylea Cooperative Inc. and Dairy Farmers of America's Northeast Council petitioned the MMB for this emergency hearing based on current market conditions. According to the petition, there is an unusual tightness in the milk supply, thus encouraging other states to offer Pennsylvania dairy farmers as much as a $1.50 per hundredweight premium to purchase their milk — for out-of-state sales — which could hurt the Pennsylvania market.

The current Pennsylvania over-order premium of $1.25 per hundredweight (this included $.25 per hundredweight for fuel adjustment) is scheduled to expire Dec. 31, 2000.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and exhibits concerning the level of the over-order premium paid to Pennsylvania dairy farmers (for Class I milk that is produced, processed, and sold in Pennsylvania) for the months of November and December 2000.

Keith, Dennis, and Bob Loy know firsthand the havoc cancer can play in the lives of loved ones. For this reason the Loy family planned a community event to raise $10,000 for cancer research. ATLANTA, GA.
Sept. 20, 2000
Report Supplied By USDA

Trucklot buying activity was slow as dealer interest remained very selective and cautious. Supplies bone-in and boneless-skinless breasts were ample and discounted sharply, and dark meat items were at least adequate to available. In contrast, seasonal interest continued to center on the limited supply of wings. Movement into retail and distributive channels remained fair at best. The market tone was fully steady to instances firm on wings, no better than steady to barely steady on dark meat items, and weak on bone-in and boneless-skinless breasts

Delmarva Broiler/Fryer

ATLANTA, GA.
Sept. 20, 2000
Report Supplied By USDA

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds slowed on all sizes. Seller offerings were readily available, particularly on the heavier sizes. Live supplies were moderate; weights were light to heavy, mostly desirable to heavy. Processing schedules were moderately heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were 1 cent lower at 54 to 68 cents. Trade sentiment was barely steady to weak. In the parts complex, Wings continued to clear well. Gizzards and Livers were in tight supply. Other cuts, particularly bone-in and boneless skinless breasts had increased in availability and were difficult to clear.

Daily National Grain Market Summary

St. Joseph, MO
Sept. 20, 2000
Report Supplied By USDA

Rains halted combines many places but harvest off t a very early start and farmers not stressed out yet. Wheat 1 to 2 cents higher. Corn steady to 6 cents higher. Sorghum 1 cent higher. Soybeans 3 to 9 cents higher.

Producers and elevators needed a little break to service machinery and elevate transporting problems. Early yield reports varied considerably and for the most part, a little below expectations. Moisture contents of both beans and corn below discount levels and no premiums payed for lower measurements. Small export announcements today but most foreign and domestic buyers fell that prices will get even lower with full harvest pressure. Senate voted to permanently normalize trade with China, hoping to open it to American products and improve export business with this country.

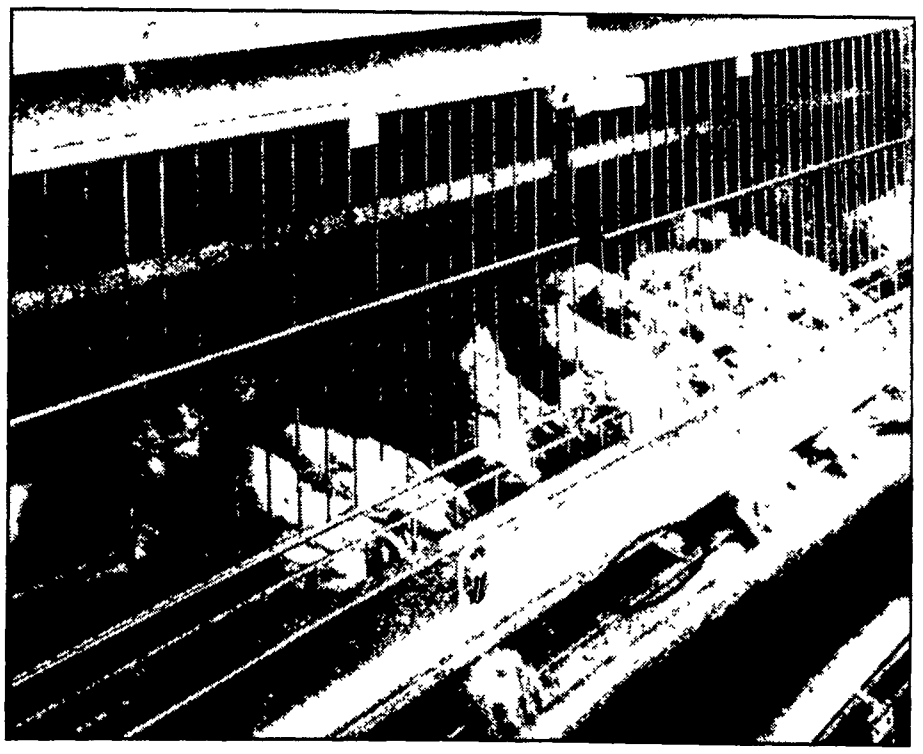
CHOOSE THE RIGHT WAY

WITH Big Dutchman

UNIVENT Starter Pullet Cages
Stacked with Manure Belt



Advantages

- simple assembly of 3 to 8 tiers;
- feed troughs are mounted on supports for trough stability and long service life;
- feed trough with inner rim provides minimal feed losses;
- upper walkway for batteries with more than 5 tiers = easy bird control;
- better thermal economy (reduced heating expenses and reduced investment costs per bird) is achieved with systems of 4 or more tiers due to increased density;
- remarkably low bird mortality during rearing.

Okla. National Stockyards

Oklahoma City, OK
Wed., Sept. 20, 2000
Report Supplied By USDA

Oklahoma National Stockyards - Weekly Cattle Summary Compared to last week: Feeder steers 600-800 lbs firm; over 800 lbs 1.00 lower. Feeder heifers steady. Steer and heifer calves steady.

Demand good for mid weight yearlings, moderate for heavy weights. Light demand for smaller calves suitable for early wheat pasture as grazing prospects looking bleak at the moment. General rain is needed and prospects for rain are nil. Demand good for larger calves which have been destined to feedlots. Quality plain to average. Weigh-ups average to full. Yearlings in slightly thin to moderate flesh, mostly medium. Calves in mostly fleshy condition, few thin. Slaughter cows and bulls steady to 1.00 lower. Packer demand moderate. Total of 475 cows and bulls sold with 46 percent to packers. Receipts this week 9184; last week 10,645; last year 10,681.

Supply consisted of 67% yearlings over 600 lbs; 28% calves under 600 lbs; 5% cows and bulls. Heifers comprised 34% of feeder and calf supply.

Prices follow with weighted average weight and price in parenthesis.

The OLD FARMER'S THIS WEEK WITH ALMANAC

SEPT. 25-OCT. 1, 2000

ST. MICHAEL, SEPTEMBER 29.

MERRY MICHAELMAS

Called either a prince or a general, Michael was the handsome young man commanded to drive the rebel angels out of heaven. He's often depicted as a stern-faced, winged angel in armor, sometimes carrying the scales of justice as well as his lance and shield. Longfellow's "Golden Legend" claims that Michael is governed by Mercury and brings prudence to man. Some traditional foods for Michaelmas Day, September 29, include new wine, roasted goose, and cakes of oats, barley, and rye. In ancient Great Britain, the goose was considered a sacrifice to the saint The feast day honors not just Michael but all angels.

The devil sets his foot on the blackberries on Michaelmas Day.

TIP OF THE WEEK

☞ To remove bits of eggshell that accidentally drop into a just-cracked egg, use a grapefruit spoon with a serrated edge.

SALMON SCRAMBLED EGGS

8 large eggs
1/4 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons butter
salt and pepper, to taste
3 tablespoons chopped dill
3 ounces smoked salmon, diced

Combine eggs, sour cream, and butter in the top of a double boiler, and heat over simmering water, stirring gently for about 10 minutes until the eggs are barely set Season with salt, pepper, and dill, then stir in the smoked salmon Serve immediately with toast.

Makes 4 servings.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER PROVERBS

If on St. Michael's Day the winds blow from the north and east, a cold winter can be expected.

Light rain on St. Michael's Day is followed by a mild winter.

If Michael brings many acorns, Christmas will cover the fields with snow.

September rain is good for crops and vines.

Telmark has been leasing equipment for over 30 years. Did you know that we've been leasing new buildings for that long too? Consider:

- Tax deductibility and accelerated write-offs: Lease payments are income tax deductible over the term of the lease compared to 20-year depreciation of farm buildings and 39-year depreciation of commercial buildings. Could reduce tax liability this year.
- Low upfront costs: As little as one monthly lease payment.
- Flexible lease term: Building lease terms from five to fifteen years.
- Customized payment schedules: Lease payment schedules are specially designed to match your cash flow.

OPINION

Go To The Fair

We are in the middle of the special events season for farmers, rural citizens, and everyone who enjoys the county fairs and other showcase events for agriculture. Starting today, we have the busiest fair week of the year.

For all the fans of beautiful dairy cows, the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show begins this evening in Harrisburg with the Pennsylvania Dairy Princess Pageant. And along with the dairy antiques show, the All-American includes both state and national dairy shows of all breeds. This year, the numbers have increased so much that officials of the show are laying claim to the largest dairy show in the nation. The youth shows and events also provide a major attraction.

And then there is Bloomsburg Fair in the central part of the state that is likely the largest fair in Pennsylvania. In progress now, many of the ag events are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. If you want to really enjoy and Ag Fair, you will want to try Bloomsburg Fair this year.

In Lancaster County, the West Lampeter Fair, and the Ephrata Fair that surrounds Lancaster Farming's office, also are staged this week. And by week's end, Morrison Cove Community Fair in Martinsburg and Tri-Valley Community Fair at Hegins will begin the next week of activity.

So, sometime in the next several weeks, you will want to go to a farm show or fair close to where you live. We think you will be glad

Now Is The Time

To Look At Fall Alfalfa Fertility

Although haymaking conditions have not been ideal this year, the total amount of forage production from most alfalfa stands has been significant.

Many alfalfa producers will soon be completing fifth cutting with total yield approaching 7 tons of dry matter per acre.

Fertility programs for alfalfa fields should be reviewed at this time of year. Producers should topdress stands with any necessary nutrients before winter dormancy, reminds Paul Craig, Capitol Region Extension agronomy agent.

Fertility studies have shown that one ton of dry matter of alfalfa hay per acre removes 15-20 pounds of phosphorous and 45-60 pounds of potash. For a 5-ton per acre hay yield, the crop would remove 100 pounds of phosphorous and 300 pounds of potash.

If not monitored, soil potash levels may become depleted in only a couple of years, resulting in lower yields and reduced winter survival. The best method to determine alfalfa topdress requirements is to use a soil test.

To Topdress Alfalfa Fields

If soil tests call for topdressing alfalfa fields with potash, the recommended program to maintain alfalfa production is to split potash applications, according to Paul Craig, Capitol Region Extension agronomy agent.

Immediately following first cutting and early fall are the best times to apply potash to alfalfa fields. By applying after first cutting, the farmer is providing nutrients to the second and third crops.

Applying nutrients early in the fall allows the plant to enter the winter dormancy period in optimal fertility status. It is critical, however, that fall fertilizers are applied well in advance of fall dormancy and freezing soil conditions.

Avoid applications when soils are soft — early spring when injury to crowns is likely. Split applications to avoid salt injury and provide nutrients at optimum time periods. High rates applied to wet forage may also cause leaf injury. Also, apply topdress as soon after harvest as possible.

Alfalfa absorbs most nutrients from the top 6 to 8 inches of the soil. Unlike nitrogen, phosphorous and potassium move very little through the soil. For this reason, alfalfa fertility programs must begin with optimum soil fertility at establishment with topdress applied to meet plant removal rates.

To Check For Harvest Losses

Two corn kernels or four soybeans per square foot are equal to a loss of one bushel per acre.

According to William McCollum, Pioneer Hi-Breed International, one good way to determine your field harvesting loss is to use a hula hoop. If you do not have one, you may purchase one at your local toy store.

To determine harvest loss, check behind the combine using your hula hoop. Count the number of loose grains on the ground within the hula hoop.

A 28-inch (2.33 foot) diameter hula hoop has an area of 4.26 square feet. Every 8.5 corn kernels or 17 soybeans found within the hula hoop equals one bushel loss per acre.

Find where the loss is coming from. Losses from the header will be evenly distributed over the entire header width. Losses from the separator will be concentrated directly behind the combine.

Acceptable losses generally range from two to three percent for corn and three to five percent for soybeans.

ANSWERING GOD'S PRAYERS

Background Scripture:
1 Samuel 3; 7:3-14.
Devotional Reading:
Luke 12:35-40.

No, that is not a misprint in the title. I realize that we never think of God "praying," especially to us! But if prayer is really two-way communication, in a sense is God not praying when he calls to us, just as we are praying when we call to him?

Might not God call us as much as we call upon him?

A little boy sent to the store to buy milk lost the money his mother had given to pay for it. As the boy sobbed, the town atheist gloated: "If God loved you, wouldn't he send someone to help you?"

"He did," the little boy replied, "but they didn't listen to him!"

When God seems to permit some tragic evil, the problem may not be that God doesn't send someone to prevent or correct it, but that he does and we do not respond.

Whether you think of God's calls to us as prayers, the result is the same — all too often we fail to respond because we don't expect to hear from him. We may assume that communication with God is essentially one way: us to him. We may also believe that God calls some people, but not "ordinary people" like us.

Then, too, we may be so self-centered that we do not ever concern ourselves with what God needs of us.

No Frequent Vision

We see this in the story of Samuel, the young apprentice prophet serving Eli, the judge and priest of Israel. It is a story about spiritual darkness.

1 Samuel tells us that "the word of the Lord was rare in those days; there was no frequent vision" (3:1). Because of Eli's spiritual decline, the people of Israel were not enlightened. Symbolic of this spiritual darkness was Eli, "whose eyesight had begun to grow dim, so that he could not see . . ."

Yet, despite Eli's spiritual and physical dimness of vision, as well as the moral darkness of his household, "the lamp of God had not yet gone out . . ." For young Samuel "was lying down within the temple", and God knew that Samuel had not yet been corrupted by Eli.

Here, the analogy turns from one of seeing to hearing: "Samuel! Samuel!" God called. But because Eli had never led him to expect to hear God's voice, Samuel thought it was Eli who was calling. Even though he did not know it was the Lord calling him, Samuel was responsive with a willingness to hear and respond: "Here I am."

Finally, when at last Eli realized the Lord was calling Samuel, he counseled the boy, "Go, lie down; and if he calls you, you shall say, 'Speak, for thy servant hears'" (3:9). Until Eli told him who was calling and how he should respond, Samuel could not enter into communication with God.

I believe God calls each of us and often. Sometimes the "call" of God to us is ignored because we don't realize what that call may sound, look, or feel like. We need to help each other to discern God's call.

God's Many Voices

Take a look around your life. Are you quite certain that there are no clues that God is calling you?

Maybe he speaks to you as an inner urge or conviction when you read the scriptures or listen to a sermon. Perhaps he speaks to you through the beauty of nature or through the voice of a friend or associate.

The very first time I can recall that God called me to the ministry was when my pastor told someone else that he expected that some day I would become a minister. When those words were reported to me, I thought it was absurd. Later, however, I realized that God used that pastor's remarks to call me.

I have no doubt that God uses people in your life to speak his words to you. The reason we do not hear or understand what God says to us is that, unlike Samuel, we seldom say, "Here I am" or "Speak, for thy servant hears." That is, we rarely perceive when we do not think there is anything to perceive. What we wait for is a loud, disembodied voice radiating from the heavens. I am not saying God never uses that voice, but that has so many other voices with which to speak to us.

Even Eli, from whom there was "no frequent vision," opened himself to the Lord so that he could advise young Samuel. When Samuel told him that God had pronounced judgment against Eli and his family, he responded with rare perception, "It is the Lord; let him do what seems good to him" (3:18).

Catastrophic Crop Insurance A Must For Bethlehem Grower

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

BETHLEHEM (Northampton Co.) — Pennsylvania Master Corn Growers Association (PMCGA) Vice President Guy Wagner knows how important catastrophic insurance, or CAT, can be for producers.

Because of last year's devastating drought, Wagner recalls that the corn on 40 acres was so worthless he simply disced it in.

CAT insurance for Wagner amounted to $60 per crop.

"I always took it," he said during an interview late in December at his farm. Farmers experienced about a 70 percent crop loss in the county. "How could you not, especially the past year, when producers got less than half a crop?"

Ever since Wagner purchased the farm business from his father, Walter, in 1990, he has bought crop insurance for his 880 acres of corn and 400 acres of soybeans, for a total of $120.

As for CAT insurance, "most don't take it," said Guy. "They never thought the year could have been like this either. You just never know."

CAT insurance pays off only a fraction of the crop.

EMPORIUM (Cameron Co.)–She says farming is expensive, and would he like to try bowling instead?

The humor in LuAnn Reed's voice soon turns to pride when she talks about her husband, Jeff, farming part time on his family farm, and winning the 1999 Pennsylvania 5-Acre Corn Club Award in the hand-harvest class with 204.3 bushels per acre.

Jeff and LuAnn Reed both work full time off the farm. In their spare time, they farm about 45 acres of cropland on his home farm plus an additional 60 acres on his father, Earl's, farm.

WHERE CAN YOU CUT CORNERS ON CORN PRODUCTION?

After last year's dreadful year, many corn growers are asking where and how they can reduce input costs in corn production.

The key is to focus on those inputs that give us the most consistent responses to our investment. Let's review how each of several common corn inputs have produced a return on investment in our trials here at Penn State.

One input you might think about is seed. In our trials there is often a large variation in performance–about 30 to 40 bushels per acre. So this input is not one to cut corners on. Some, but not all, premium-priced hybrids are top yielders. Check out independent data to get some idea how new hybrids perform.

Our trials have shown relatively low (3-4 bushel per acre) yield responses to the Bt gene itself under normal planting conditions, as have

DFA. Good neighbors in dairy country.

You'll see and hear a lot about DFA ... in the newspaper, on grocery store shelves, from members, from your neighbors, even other cooperatives. You'll see the results a producer-owned, producer-run partnership can bring — new products, new marketing opportunities and local services that are right for you. You'll hear what DFA membership can mean — better representation, local involvement and the support to be all you can be.

Invest in a partnership that pays ... talk to your local DFA representative today.

WB95PZ Zimmerman Water Bowl

The Unlimited Water Supply For Your Cows!

Low maintenance noncorrosive Delrin valve is self cleaning & simple to operate!

Now you can give your cows the water they need to produce more milk. With the Zimmerman Water Bowl, you can do it at no extra cost!

The bowls are designed to comply with known federal and local requirements when installed properly*

Cows are not designed to push a paddle when they need a drink. This unique watering system provides a continuous supply of fresh water in the way nature intended cows to drink. With a large capacity, fast recovery and a guarantee against breakage, the Zimmerman Water Bowl will revolutionize the way you water your herd

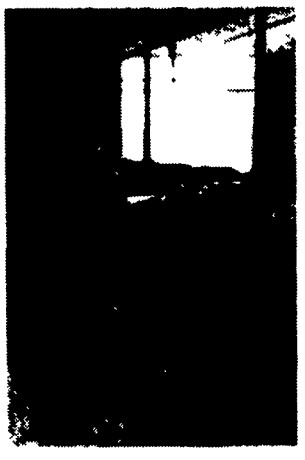
*All bottom fill bowls require that approved back flow prevention devices be installed in potable water supply lines.

Install in new or remodeled facilities or in most existing barns on manger or stall side!

- 12" in diameter & 8" deep.
- 3 gallon capacity- 6 times that of other bowls!
- Fast recovery- 3 gallons per minute at 40 psi.
- PVC construction- guaranteed unbreakable, inhibits bacterial growth.
- With nonrestrictive splash guard.
- Cleaner- water fill located at bottom.
- Bottom drain- for easy cleaning.
- Adjustable water level.

MORE WATER MEANS MORE MILK...NATURALLY!

Heavy duty steel clamp & mounting bracket totally supports bowl.



Two Coat Process!

Added Value With Our 2 Coat Process!
1 Five step metal preparation, including iron phosphate conversion coating, to enhance adhesion & prevent undercoat corrosion
2 Zinc rich epoxy powder undercoat
3 TGIC polyester powder top coat, baked at 400° to fuse costs, forming a cross link molecular bond

USDA Outlook Optimistic for 2001

- Milk production to decline in 2001
- Milk prices to improve in 2001
- Current cheese and butter prices stable

The cheese market is struggling to maintain prices in the face of seasonally heavy volumes of offerings at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. Milk production is seasonally declining and back-to-school demand for Class I uses has tightened things up However, cool weather in much of the U.S has resulted in a rebound in butterfat and protein levels.

Nevertheless, block cheese prices traded between $1.30 and $1 33 this week at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. Barrel prices fell from $1 28 per pound on Monday, September 11 to $1 2425 per pound on Wednesday, September 13 However, barrel prices rebounded to $1 29 per pound by Friday, September 15

Butter prices at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange weakened some from last week, trading at a weekly average price of $1.1633 per pound USDA reports that churning activities are moderate to heavy in the West and that there is plenty of frozen butter available to the market. Current demand is fair to good

I have heard of a number of opportunities for dairy producers to lock in milk prices for 2001. Various cooperatives are offering fixed price contracts for milk. The question is, are these deals any good? The contracts I have heard about are in relation to the Class III price. So, what will the Class III price average in 2001.

My estimates show that the Class III price will average about $10 07 per cwt for this year. USDA has a higher mean estimate of $10.15 for 2000. Most analysts expect the Class III price will be higher in 2001 due to a slower rate of growth in the milk supply.

USDA's latest forecast is that

BUILDING & FACILITIES PLANNING

Not a Seed of Doubt.

AGWAY 2001

Through exhaustive testing and development on over 200 working farms in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic, Agway's agronomic experts have removed the doubt from choosing seed corn hybrids. All Agway hybrids have been tested for success on farms just like yours, capitalizing on the latest genetic advancements and production practices.

For example: AG5496 features natural corn borer tolerance, fast dry-down, vigorous early growth and superior late season plant intactness. AG6399Bt contains the YieldGard® gene for locations where potential for European corn borer damage is high. It's an excellent choice for early planting, conservation tillage and easy harvesting.

So plant success, not doubt. Give us a call today for more information on how we can provide practical, proven seed solutions that help turn your toughest growing challenges into profitable results.

Glickman Awards $18.7 Million To Boost Technology In Rural Education, Medicine

RAISIN CITY, Calif.— Continuing the Clinton Administration's efforts to help rural America, Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman recently announced $18.7 million in grants to promote the use of technology in education and medicine.

"Distance learning and telemedicine are the wave of the future for rural America," Glickman said. "Using new technology students and families can participate in classes not previously available to them, and people who live in rural areas can access health care without driving long distances."

Glickman made the announcement at the Raisin City Elementary School in Raisin City, Calif., near the Community Medical Centers of Fresno County, which received a $206,000 grant to establish a telecommunications network. This network will provide rural residents — including medically under-served farmworkers — in the surrounding area with round-the-clock access to medical care. The project includes equipping a mobile medical van with telemedicine equipment to reach out to and visit farmworkers and other rural residents who would likely not otherwise receive medical care.

The awards also include a $350,000 grant to establish distance-learning classrooms at three high schools in the Union (Miss.) Public School District. The new facilities will give students in small, isolated communities there access to upper division instruction through a regional cooperative distance-learning network.

Among the other awards is a $277,000 grant to create distance-learning hubs in Clay Center, Doniphan and Superior, Neb. A $325,000 grant was awarded to Copenhagen (N.Y.) Central School for distance-learning technology to upgrade agricultural science programs in sparsely populated rural areas near the St. Lawrence River.

The 84 grants announced today will include $11.3 million for 49 distance learning projects encompassing over 300 educational facilities, which will enable students in rural school districts to participate in classes taught by instructors at distant locations, or to access information from libraries and other learning centers located far from their schools. More than $7 million will fund 35 telemedicine projects, involving nearly 200 medical institutions that will use new telecommunications technology to help patients in isolated rural health clinics be examined, diagnosed and treated by doctors working in distant medical centers.

New Inspection System Lea Reductions Of Salmonella I

WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman recently reported continued reductions in the prevalence of Salmonella in raw meat and poultry products produced under USDA's new, science-based inspection system.

"The evidence is clear. Our science-based, prevention-oriented food safety system is working," said Glickman, "Salmonella is wa Americans continue to enjoy the safest the world."

In 1996, the Clinton-Gore Administra nificantly overhauled the nation's m poultry inspection system. The new Hazard Analysis and Critical Contro (HACCP), uses scientific testing to be inistration sig- n's meat and new system, Control Points to better prevent contamination and foodborne illness.

The new data cover large and small meat and poultry plants for the year ending June 30, 2000. Salmonella prevalence in broilers was 20 percent before HACCP and has dropped to 9.9 percent under HACCP. Prevalence in hogs declined from 8.7 percent before HACCP to 7.7 percent under HACCP. In cows and bulls, prevalence fell from 2.7 percent prior to HACCP to 1.6 percent under HACCP. Prevalence in steers and heifers declined from 1.0 percent before HACCP to 0.2 percent under HACCP. In ground beef, prevalence dropped from 7.5 percent before HACCP to 5.0 percent under HACCP. Prevalence in ground turkey dropped from 49.9 percent prior to HACCP to 30 percent under HACCP.

Combined test results in large and small plants from the same period indicate that the percentage of plants meeting the HACCP performance standard was high: 92 percent for broilers, 82 percent for hogs and ground turkey, 84 percent for cows and bulls, 87 percent for ground beef, and 100 percent for steers and heifers. In total, 88 percent of large and small plants met the standard. Failure to meet the standards requires immediate corrective measures by the plant and can lead to enforcement action by USDA.

USDA tests for Salmonella because it is a good indicator of overall sanitary conditions at a plant. Salmonella is also one of the leading causes of foodborne illness. Consumption of food contaminated with Salmonella can cause salmonellosis, one of the most common bacterial foodborne illnesses. Salmonella infections can be life-threatening, especially for infants, the frail or elderly, and persons with chronic disease, with HIV infection, or taking chemotherapy. The most common manifestations of salmonellosis are diarrhea, abdominal cramps, and fever within eight to 72 hours. Additional symptoms may be chills, headache, nausea, and vomiting that can last up to seven days.

Northeast Order Uniform Price For August 2000

BOSTON, Mass. — Erik F. Rasmussen, market administrator for the Northeast Marketing Area, has announced that the statistical uniform price for August 2000 is $13.39 per hundredweight or $1.15 per gallon for milk delivered to plants located in Suffolk County, Massachusetts (Boston).

The statistical uniform price is the benchmark minimum producer blend price paid to dairy farmers, prior to allowable deductions, for milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat, 2.99 percent protein, and 5.69 percent other solids. The price received by an individual dairy farmer will vary as the component composition of a farm's milk differs from the established benchmarks.

Rasmussen also stated that the producer price differential (PPD) for August is $3.26 per hundredweight for milk delivered to plants located in Suffolk County, Massachusetts. The PPD represents each producer's share of the value generated by the market wide pool on a hundredweight basis.

The PPD, which is added to the payment producers receive for their milk's components, is adjusted for the location of the receiving plant. The statistical uniform price and PPD decrease by scheduled amounts, the more distant the plant is from Suffolk County, Massachusetts. The August PPD is $3.16 in New York, N.Y., and $3.06 in Philadelphia, Pa.

The class prices for milk pooled in August are as follows: Class I, $15.20 (Suffolk County, Massachusetts); Class II, $12.56; Class III, $10.13; and Class IV, $11.87. Had the Northeast Order been in effect in 1999, comparable class prices for August 1999 would have been: Class I, $16.13; Class II, $13.46; Class III, $15.61; and Class IV, price $12.77.

The component values for August are protein, $1.7952 per pound; butterfat, $1.2659 per pound; other solids, $0.0577 per pound; and nonfat solids, $0.8567 per pound.

Milk receipts from producers totaled 1.918 billion pounds. Class I utilization, milk processed as beverage milk, was 45.2 percent of producer milk receipts. The average Class I utilization, for the three predecessor orders that were combined to form the Northeast Order, was 43.4 percent in August 1999.

The manufacture Class II products such as cream, ice cream, yogurt, and cottage cheese utilized 19.3 percent of producer milk. Milk used to manufacture Class III products such as cheese (American and Italian) and evaporated and condensed products utilized 30.4 percent of total milk receipts. Class IV usage (butter, nonfat and whole milk powder) equaled 5.1 percent of the total.

Judges Announced For All-American Dairy Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — An impressive list of judges has been assembled to place the classes and award prizes to the best animals at the 37th All-American Dairy Show.

On Tuesday, Sept. 26, the Eastern National Ayrshire Show will start promptly at 9 a.m. in the Large Arena, with Larry Schirm serving as the official judge for all 44 classes. He returns from having judged the show previously.

Schrim grew up on a farm in Ohio. He has maintained his rural roots and continues to work with the dairy industry as the Director of Product Development for Alta Genetics. His work at Alta Genetics over the past 16 years has been mostly with daughter evaluations, sire selections, and employee training. A graduate of Kansas State University, he judges dairy cattle shows across the United States and Canada.

Dairy enthusiast and active farmer, Dennis Patrick of Maple Dell Farms of Woodbine, Maryland, will be the official for the Eastern Regional Brown Swiss Show on Wednesday, Sept. 27, beginning at 9 a.m.

Patrick is an integral part of the family farm, where they milk 130 Holsteins and 50 Ayrshires. The rolling herd averages for the herds are 26,500m, 1050f and 20,000m and 800f, respectively. The Patricks farm 900 acres and raise all the feed for the milking herd and young stock. He has been a part of the farm operation since 1986, when he returned from being the Herdsman at Rothrock Golden Holsteins.

Patrick has judged the Hodika Show in Japan and many shows in the United States, including the Eastern National Holstein Show, and served as an Associate Judge at The World Dairy Expo. He has also judged state shows and fairs in Ohio, New York, Florida, Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, and Indiana among others.

The National Guernsey Show will also file into the Large Arena on Wednesday morning, to be placed by Lee Kohler of Baltimore, Ohio.

Kohler's farm is home for 66 milking Guernseys, with a RHA over 18,000m. Each year, Kohler's breeding and cow care are reflected in the number of homebred animals nominated for All-American status. While active on the show road, this family farms over 400 acres. Kohler is the father of six children.

As an accomplished judge, he has judged countless county, district, and regional shows. He has judged at the All-American Dairy Show in Harrisburg, the Mid West Classic in Indiana, and the Ohio Holstein Futurity.

Perry Phend, herd superintendent for Carousel Farms of Orangeville, Illinois, will officiate the Eastern National Holstein Show which begins at 8 a.m., Thursday, Sept. 28 in the Large Arena.

Phend has an extensive background working with and developing great cattle. He worked at Lylehaven Farms, where he served as herdsman for eight years and now oversees the care and management of another great herd of Holsteins. Phend has traveled and officiated at many regional shows and at State Fairs. He will be officiating at the North American Livestock Show this fall.

Jersey breeder and farmer, Hank Van Exel of Dairy, Lodi, California, will be doing double duty this year. On Tuesday, Van Exel will judge the Pennsylvania State Fall Holstein Championship Show and on Thursday, he will officiate at the Mid-Atlantic Regional Jersey Show.

Van Exel owns and operates Exel Dairy, a 2,000-acre operation that is divided into two farms. The first farm houses 1,200 milking Holsteins, with a RHA of 27,600m and 1072f, and 900p. This herd was rated number one for BAA in the over 200 head category, with a BAA of 106.5. The second farm houses the Jersey herd, and was just recently acquired. Currently, they are milking 200 Jerseys, and are raising replacements to bring the milking herd up to 500.

Van Exel has bred two reserve All-Americans and enjoys showing as much as judging dairy cattle. He has officiated at the Maryland, Utah, Oregon, and Idaho State Fairs.

Dennis Ferguson, Dryden, New York, will be the official judge for the Eastern National Milking Shorthorn Show.

Ferguson has a lifetime of cattle experience, having grown up on McDonald's Guernsey farm under the watchful eye of Henry Thomas and Casey Sly. As a student at Cornell University, he participated on the judging team in 1964. After graduating from college, he returned home to manage the Guernsey herd until it's dispersal in 1985.

Currently, he sells for Semex, USA. He remains active in the registered cattle business and owns several animals in partnership with other farmers. He is the chairman for the All New York Contest. His judging experience includes numerous state fairs and regional shows.

Trade Show Auction Added To All-American

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — "The Dairy Trade Show Silent Auction is a brand new and exciting opportunity for agribusiness to promote their products or services at the 37th All-American Dairy Show. It is part of our expanded trade show and we are delighted to share this great new opportunity with our long time show supporters and to other agribusiness that wish to be a part of the Pennsylvania's largest dairy event," All-American Fund Raising Coordinator, Lolly Lesher said.

Explaining the logistics of the silent auction, Lesher said, "Vendors will have the opportunity to present several lots for sale by silent auction to visiting dairy farmers. In lieu of class sponsor contributions, or buying a commercial booth space, vendors will offer items for purchase through a silent auction. The All-American will receive the revenues from the sales."

This will create activity and excitement in the trade show area explained Lesher. The concept is a direct result of the All-American Dairy Show meetings sponsored by Farmshine earlier this year.

This interactive trade show is designed to attract dairymen to the trade show displays. With an attractive display, and the auction lots clearly identified, anyone can easily sign up to bid on the products. The vendor is responsible for seeing that the products get to the buyer. Ideally, vendors will offer one or more lots each day. A minimum bid on each lot will be set. These lots are to be part of display, creating an opportunity for vendors to visit with dairyman one on one.

NEED HIGH QUALITY FORAGE?

Use GREEN SPIRIT RYEGRASS
as a cover/forage crop after corn silage

GREEN SPIRIT has higher quality than rye, triticale or wheat if cut before boot stage. Is actually a better feed than alfalfa. Has more digestible fiber and sugars. Does not head out until approximately May 12. Cut GREEN SPIRIT mid April and it will be ready again 3 weeks later. Yes, that's 2 cuttings of GREEN SPIRIT and still time to plant corn. Tired of the way rye heads out and loses its quality so fast in spring? GREEN SPIRIT Ryegrass stays leafy until early May!

FALL TOPICS

As the summer growing season turns into fall, many growers are completing harvest of their fall crops and beginning preparations for winter. I know that the growing season must be coming to a close since I've begun making preparations for the winter grower meetings.

This month I'll cover a few topics related to the season and provide an update on plum pox.

Blotchy Ripening In Tomatoes

I have a planting of tomatoes at the research farm that I am still harvesting and I have noticed a large amount of irregular ripening in the fruit. .

Symptoms include poor color development on large areas of the fruit or irregular coloring on smaller areas. This disorder appeared back when we had the first wave of cold weather earlier this month.

Tomatoes are known to ripen poorly if the temperature falls below 60 degrees. I'm sure many growers are observing the same conditions in their late tomatoes. This disorder is known as blotchy ripening or gray wall.

As I mentioned, the first symptoms of this disorder are blotchy, brownish-gray areas on ripening fruit. These areas never color properly and may remain grayish or turn yellow. The rest of the fruit colors normally, resulting in an unmarketable fruit. If you cut an affected fruit open, there may be some browning in the vascular tissue just inside the skin.

What causes this disorder? While we do not fully understand what causes gray wall, we do know that certain conditions seem to increase its development. High nitrogen, low potassium, high soil moisture, high humidity, rapid plant growth, temperature fluctuations, low light levels, low temperatures, and soil compaction are all related to the occurrence of this disorder. In addition, there may be some involvement of certain bacteria or fungi as well as tobacco mosaic virus.

Of this list the only factors that we can control at this point in the season are the levels of nitrogen and potassium as well as soil compaction. If you have a history of problems with this disorder, be sure to know the nutritional status of your plants prior to the occurrence of cool weather next fall. You should also assess your fields for compacted soils and correct any problem areas you find.

In addition, there seems to be varietal differences in the occurrence of this disorder. When planting your late tomato crop next season, try to include a few plants of other varieties to see if there is a different variety that may be better suited for fall production on your farm.

When Should I Stop Spraying?

I have received this question in the office in the past and thought I would mention it here.

Basically the answer depends on your harvest plans. If you are growing pumpkins, you can stop spraying about one to two weeks before you plan to harvest. If you will be letting the fruit lay in the field longer, it should still be protected from black rot and the handles still need to be protected from powdery mildew as long as they are green. If you do pick-your-own, be sure to observe the necessary PHI.

As for other crops, you are still also mainly interested in protecting the fruit. If you have done a good job of spraying up to this point, then you should have enough foliage to finish maturing the crop. What disease are you most concerned with? If it only affects foliage then you can probably stop spraying, especially if you expect to complete harvest within two weeks. However, diseases that affect fruit can destroy the remainder of your crop and you should seriously consider another fungicide application if the crop has a reasonable chance of maturing.

Know Your Fruit Problem Pests

Greg Krawczyk, tree fruit entomologist at the Biglerville fruit lab, notes that the fruit from your orchards at harvest time represent a cumulative record of insect and disease activity for the season. This record can provide valuable insight into how well an integrated pest management program is working and what changes in the program need to be made in the following year.

A sample of fruit from each orchard block should be inspected, insect and disease damage identified, and a written record made. The written record should be referred to next year when making decisions about insect and disease control.

Plum Pox Update

As you know, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA) has been conducting an extensive survey of Pennsylvania stone fruit orchards this season to determine how far the plum pox virus (PPV) may have spread. Within the known infected areas, a door-to-door survey is being conducted to identify backyard stone fruit trees that may require testing. In addition, weed species are being tested in the quarantine area for the presence of PPV. Quarantine areas include Latimore, Huntington, Dickinson, and South Middletown townships in Adams County and portions of Menallen and Tyrone townships in Cumberland County.

Sampling of Lancaster county orchards was completed this summer and, as of this date, I have heard of no positive results in our county. Sampling in the county will probably be conducted next season and for several additional seasons until authorities are reasonably certain that the virus has not spread beyond the known quarantined areas.

So far this year, 38,434 field samples have been processed by the PDA lab, of which 398 have tested positive. This number has remained the same since July. The positive samples were detected early on from 39 blocks belonging to nine different growers in Adams and Cumberland counties. In addition, about 294 homeowner and fruit tree nursery samples were processed by the PDA Virology Laboratory in Harrisburg. All of these samples were negative.

The Fruit Research and Extension Center in Biglerville has been sampling backyard home orchards and weed species within the quarantine area, but so far all are negative.

Controlling PPV

There have been no new developments in terms of controlling this disease. The only way to control the virus at this time is to eliminate the infected trees by burning and to keep the aphids that spread the disease under control by chemical applications.

New information from France indicates that aphids (under laboratory conditions) can spread PPV from infected fruit to healthy trees. Growers and fruit handlers are being urged not to dispose of imported stone fruit that could expose infected fruit to aphids. Burning or burying fruit imported from PPV areas (Europe, Chile) will keep the virus spreading into new areas.

PPV In Canada

Early this year, three nectarine trees tested positive for PPV in Canada. This outbreak of PPV in Canada did not originate from these three Fantasia trees that were imported from Pennsylvania in 1997.

There is evidence that PPV was in Canada as early as 1992. It is possible that the Fantasia trees may have been infected in Canada.

The original source of PPV in Canada is still not known. Currently, stone fruit trees with the plum pox virus have been located in all major peach and nectarine production areas of the Niagara peninsula. In addition, positive trees have been identified in southwestern Ontario.

There are now more than 300 positive samples involving many growers. To date, a total of 120 acres of stone fruits have been removed in Canada.

The Canadian government and scientists are working hard to continue the surveying and identification of infected trees in order to determine the extent of the disease.

All-Dairy Antiques, Collectibles Show To Be Conducted

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Dairy antiques, collectibles, milk bottles, and "go with" items of all types will be displayed at the third annual All-Dairy Antiques and Collectibles Show Sept. 23-27. Exhibitors are already registered from California, Connecticut, Minnesota, New York and Pennsylvania. Others are expected from Maryland, Michigan, Ohio and Virginia. Most will have many items for sale or trade.

Special exhibits will be provided by Rutter's Dairy, York. The era of home delivery of milk and other dairy products will be covered with the exhibition of three of their restored delivery vehicles — a horse drawn milk wagon used in the 1920's, a 1936 Thorne gas/electric truck used in the 1930's and 40's, and a 1967 Ford which was used during the final years of home delivery. About 80 percent of Americans had their milk and other dairy products delivered in the 1950's. In the 1970's, with the rise of mothers working away from home, the numbers dropped to 10 percent. Today, less than one percent of Americans have milk delivered to their homes.

This year, for the first time, the show will highlight De Laval items. Because of De Laval's long, historic legacy in the dairy industry, their brand was selected for emphasis and special attention during the event.

The show will open at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 23 and end at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 27, 2000. Exhibitors are encouraged to stay as long as possible, but are not required to stay for all five days.

Because this show is restricted to dairy antiques, collectibles and milk bottles, it is unique on the East Coast. Exhibitors and visitors will find it a great place to see and buy, as well as learn, because much effort is devoted to making the displays educational with descriptive labels and signs. Held in conjunction with the 37th All-American Dairy Show, the All-Dairy Antiques and Collectibles Show allows visitors to view seldom-seen dairy tools used in the late 1800's and early 1900's, while seeing some of the nation's modern and best dairy cattle in the barns and show ring.

Dairy Show To Host Meet-A-Cow Day

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Got milk? The All-American Dairy Show does and they invite local residents to see where their milk comes from at the first-ever Meet-a-Cow Day, Sunday, Sept. 24, from noon till 4 p.m. The event is free and will highlight all aspects of the dairy industry, including calves, nutrition and milk production.

"Meet-a-Cow Day is a fun event designed to introduce consumers to this great milk-making animal, the cow," said Lolly Lesher, promotions coordinator for the All-American. "Not only will visitors be able to have an up-close-and-personal experience with dairy animals, but they will leave with the knowledge of the importance of the dairy industry to Pennsylvania and the importance of dairy products in their daily diet.'

Volunteers from The Pennsylvania State University, local dairy promotion organizations and Pennsylvania Dairy Princesses will serve as escorts for the educational event, and all participants will receive a free dairy treat, courtesy of Turkey Hill Dairy, after their dairy journey is complete.

"We have extended invitations to the local Big Brothers and Big Sisters organizations, hoping to bring in children for this outstanding program," said Lesher. "This event is the first time the doors of the All-American Dairy Show will be opened to the public and we hope the people of Harrisburg will take advantage of this opportunity to learn about agriculture."

Agribusiness Adds Rewards To Champion Winners

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — In an unprecedented move, agri-industry will support the All-American Dairy Show with substantial financial incentives to breeders who bring their best cattle to the All-American Dairy Show in Harrisburg, Sept. 24-28. The parade of champions during the Supreme Champion Pageant, the highlight of the week's shows, will now represent a combined $10,000, the highest total ever at the All-American Dairy Show.

Agway, Keystone Enterprise, is the sponsor of the Supreme Champion this year, and will be awarding $3,000 to the winner in addition to the John L. Morris Supreme Champion blanket. This is a first in the dairy industry to award such an amount to any one animal. Agway's generous contribution is an example of their desire to support and energize the dairy industry.

Each of the breed champions will be awarded a monetary prize.

- The grand champion Ayrshire will be awarded $1,000 by Taurus Service, Inc. and the Pennsylvania Ayrshire Breeder's Association.
- The Brown Swiss grand champion will receive $1,000, donated by Triple H Construction.
- The grand champion Guernsey will receive $1,000, presented by Renaissance Nutrition.
- The grand champion of the All-American Jersey Show will receive $1,000, presented by Westfalia-Surge, Inc.
- The Milking Shorthorn grand champion will receive $1,000, donated by Farmshine magazine.
- Select Sires is sponsoring the All-American Holstein Champion, and will present $2,000 to the grand champion of this show.

Rugaber Wins All-American Image Award

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Robert Rugaber, Butler, has been named the recipient of the 2000 All-American Dairy Show Image Award, according to All-American Dairy Show President Obie Snider. "Bob has been active in all 37 of the All-American Dairy Shows, and it is a tribute to his dedication and commitment that he has supported, promoted and enhanced the show in such a professional manner," Snider said.

A retired Penn State Extension agent, Rugaber travels to Harrisburg every September to assist with the show. He is the only person on the current show staff who can claim to have been part of each show since its inception in 1963.

The image award is presented each year to someone who has enhanced the image of the All-American Dairy Show by significant contributions toward its reputation, prestige and welfare.

Rugaber served as superintendent of the Eastern National Brown Swiss Show for over 20 years. His long years of service and promotion efforts on behalf of that breed earned him an Honorary Brown Swiss Association membership in the Pennsylvania State Brown Swiss Association.

Dairy Superintendent Larry Specht noted, "Bob is a good mentor for the new members of the dairy committee. He teaches them the ropes and helps them learn what is expected at these national dairy shows. He is very versatile, and can fill in wherever necessary. He has served on breed committees and has announced the Junior Dairy Show when needed," Specht added, "Usually he can be found tallying the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibit awards."

Rugaber retired as director of Penn State Cooperative Extension in Butler County after serving for 35 years.

He was instrumental in developing a variety of educational programs, including seminars on farm safety, farmland taxation, land use planning and strip mine reclamation.

In 1979, Rugaber received the National Association of County Agricultural Agents Distinguished Service Award for his outstanding educational contributions to Pennsylvania agriculture. Among the programs NAACA cited were Rugaber's work with the Soil Conservation Service to reclaim mined areas using grass and legumes.

Rugaber and the agricultural engineering faculty at Penn State began the first Farm Fire and Machinery Accident Program in 1978. This statewide programs trains paramedics to handle farm accidents.

He also helped organize the Central Western Pennsylvania Beekeepers Association and the Western Pennsylvania Commercial Vegetable Growers Seminar and Trade Show, attended by nearly 200 producers each year.

Upon graduation from Penn State in 1955 with a degree in dairy science, Rugaber worked first as an extension agent in Centre County, then in Dauphin County before moving to Butler County in 1962.

He has received the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association Extension Award and was named Grange Man of the Year in Agriculture.

Rugaber will be recognized on Wednesday, Sept. 27 at p.m.

Previous winners of the All-American Image Award include Lee Yost, John Walker, Steve Spencer, John Morris, Larry Specht, Obie Snider, Elsie Wolff and Don Ace.

Dairy Knowledge Valued

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — "The Junior Dairy Management Contest at the All-American Dairy Show is the best run and most comprehensive contest open to youth," 4-H leader and coach Donna Wilson said. Wilson hails from Cataragus, New York, and has a winning tradition at this elite contest. Three of her 4-H members have won the contest and been recipients of the $1,000 scholarship. "The Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association sponsors the $1,000 scholarship and this is a tremendous addition to our contest support," notes Show Manager Charles Itle.

This year's contest is being held on Tuesday, Sept. 26 and is open to all bona fide 4-H club and FFA members. The contest is part of the 37th annual All-American Dairy Show.

Wilson added, "This is top notch contest that really tests the skills and knowledge which dairy farmers need to demonstrate. All year our 4-Hers are out promoting this contest, and studying and now New York sends a team of four to represent the state. The $1,000 is a great incentive for the members. Dairy bowl questions are a big help for preparing for the contest. Ordering the training kit that the contest provides is very important. Historically, preparing for the feed identification and meat identification portion of the contest was the most fun. Preparing for the financial management was much more challenging."

Other sponsors for this outstanding youth contest include: Church and Dwight (Arm and Hammer Products), Milk Specialities Co. (Energy Booster 100), Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, Pharmcia and Upjohn Animal Health and Prince Agri-Products. Additional support is provided by Chr Hansen Bio Systems and Land O'Lakes Milk Coop. Contributions from these companies allow for cash prizes for the top 10 individuals overall and for the teams in the 4-H and FFA divisions, along with the plaques, ribbons and trophies.

The Junior Dairy Management Contest has seven classes each year. Participants will be tested on the following topics: dairy cattle selection, linear trait analysis, meats identification and quality assurance of dairy beef, feed management and grain/forage identification, current issues in the dairy industry, dairy cattle housing and milk quality and product identification.

The top five finalists will be interviewed by a panel of three dairy industry personnel. These young people will be asked about their understanding of current issues within the dairy industry. The winner with the highest cumulative score will win the $1,000 scholarship.

2000 DISTRICT MEETING DATES

The Board and Staff of the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Inc invites all dairy farmers to attend this year's District Annual Meetings The grassroots efforts of ADADC depend on involvement and input by our dairy farmer members The purpose of our meetings is to present updates on budgets and programs that are used to sell milk to consumers in New York, northern New Jersey and northeastern Pennsylvania The district meetings are also your chance to select the farmer leaders of the organization.

As part of their membership in ADADC, each farm will receive two free meals and will be credited with $2 off any additional meals at the district meetings. Please attend and take advantage of this opportunity to have your questions answered, and take pride in your award winning programs

Glickman Announces Details On Compensation For Plum Pox-Affected Farmers

WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman recently announced the details regarding compensation that will be provided to owners of commercial stone fruit orchards and nurseries whose stock was destroyed in order to control plum pox in Pennsylvania.

Vice President Gore said in June that up to $13.2 million would be made available to assist fruit growers and fruit tree nursery owners who suffered economically due to the plum pox quarantine.

Commercial stone fruit orchard owners whose trees have been destroyed in order to control plum pox are eligible for compensation on a per-acre basis, depending on the age of the orchard. Owners of fruit tree nurseries are eligible to receive compensation for the net revenue losses associated with the prohibition of movement or sale of nursery stock as a result of an emergency action notice issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The rate of compensation to be paid by USDA is set at up to 85 percent of the difference in value between the destroyed and replacement orchards.

Penn State Survey Looks At What It Takes To Support Farming

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Farmers in southeastern Pennsylvania are getting a chance to tell state legislators their views on farmland preservation and supporting agribusiness as part of a study by researchers in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

"The state's put a lot of time and energy into preserving farmland with the hope of preserving agriculture," said Timothy Kelsey, associate professor of agricultural economics. "But even if we preserve the land, will farmers have everything they need? Will they have a place to sell their product? We want to see if the amount of farmland has an influence on the number of farms and the number of agribusiness firms that are able to survive in Pennsylvania."

"Co-dependence of Pennsylvania's Agribusinesses, Farms, and Farmland," a research project funded in part by the Center for Rural Pennsylvania, examines the economic ties between farming operations, farmland preservation, and agribusiness sustainability. The research group mailed written surveys to farmers and agribusinesses in southeastern Pennsylvania, and will follow with a series of face-to-face interviews with selected agribusiness owners. The data will help legislators make future decisions.

According to Kelsey, the state's current initiative to save farmland is just part of a larger challenge. "Keeping agriculture as a viable industry requires a critical balance of farmland preservation, agribusiness support, and farm profitability," he said. "If you lose a lot of farms in a community, that makes it hard for agribusiness to stay in business. If you lose agribusiness, that makes it hard for farmers, because they can't get supplies locally. So if you want to keep agriculture, you have to keep both of them."

USDA To Conduct National Agricultural Transportation Summit

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman recently announced that USDA will host a national summit on Agricultural Transportation Challenges for the 21st Century, Nov. 28-29 at the Renaissance St. Louis Airport Hotel in St. Louis, Mo. The summit was originally scheduled to take place Oct. 2-3.

"As I have stated many times, no matter how good our agricultural products are, if we cannot move them, we cannot sell them. That means that an affordable, reliable transportation network is an indispensable ingredient in the future strength and competitiveness of American agriculture and our rural communities," said Glickman.

At the summit, USDA will highlight long-term agricultural transportation challenges and consider how those challenges can be addressed through a long-term agricultural transportation strategy.

The summit is open to the public. There will be a registration fee of $75 to cover the cost of materials and meals. A tentative agenda, registration form, and hotel information are available on the web at: http://www.ams.usda.gov/tmd/summit.

FALL WEBWORMS HAVE RETURNED

Dr. Robert S. Hansen
Bradford County
Extension Forester

The fall webworm is again busily constructing its ugly nest in forest and shade trees in our area. The fall webworm is a widely distributed defoliating pest of shade trees and shrubs and appears from late summer through early fall. They are particularly fond of nut trees such as black walnut and hickory but they will feed on a variety of species.

The webworm constructs its nest over the end of the branch and only feeds on leaves within the web. The large conspicuous web is filled with caterpillars, dead, partially-eaten leaves, and fecal droppings. The remains of these nests may persist through winter.

The fall webworm overwinters as brown pupae in a cocoon that is concealed in trash, ground litter, cracks and crevices, or in the soil. Adult moths first appear in early June but may continue to appear in small numbers during most of the summer. Moths vary considerably in color from pure white to white with black spots; their wingspread is about 1¼-inches. Females deposit their light yellow eggs in hair-covered masses of several hundred eggs, usually on the undersurface of the leaves.

Young larvae hatch in approximately seven days. They immediately begin to spin a silken web over the foliage on which they feed. As they grow, they enlarge the web to enclose more and more foliage. These webs sometimes encompass two-three-feet of the infested branch. The larvae are gregarious and feed together until the last molt, after which they feed independent of each other. Larvae mature in about six weeks.

Young larvae are pale yellow with two rows of black marks along their bodies. When fully grown, they are covered with whitish hairs that spring from black and orange warts. The larvae vary as to the depth of coloring and markings, but are usually greenish with a broad, dusky stripe along the back and a yellow stripe along the side. Full-grown larvae leave the web and pupate on or in the soil, or in crevices around buildings or fence posts. There are one or two generations per year, depending on the geographical location.

Fall webworm larvae skeletonize and consume leaves under the protection of a tent-like web that they enlarge as they grow and require additional food. Since tree leaves are in the process of "shutting down" their processes this time of year, webworms may defoliate a tree occasionally, but rarely kill it. On shade trees, the webs usually occur on an occasional branch. They may not injure the tree appreciably but they reduce its ornamental value.

Natural enemies of various kinds help to control this insect. Birds, insect predators, and insect parasites attack the fall webworm larvae. Predators and insect parasites may destroy clusters of eggs. It is also possible to reduce their numbers by mechanical control. When the tented branches are within reach, they can be snipped off and destroyed. This is practical if the tents have not become too large and the tree's shape is not threatened by this method.

Bt is effective if applied when the webs are small. Other chemical control measures can be used throughout the webworm season, but they are most effective when the webs are small. The entire tree need not be sprayed, but webs and surrounding foliage should be thoroughly covered.

Ayrshire Class Largest Number Of Colored Breeds At Solanco

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

QUARRYVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — Though the numbers were down this year while the quality remained high, the Solanco Fair Colored Breeds Show featured a large, 26-head class of Ayrshires Wednesday morning and afternoon.

Jeremy Daubert, show judge from McElhattan, Clinton County, chose the 3-year-old, Wentworth Farm Nampa Skye (S: Plum-bottom Nampa BB Laser), bred by R&B Wentworth and exhibited by Hanna Wentworth, as grand champion Ayrshire.

Daubert, from Victory Acres Brown Swiss farm and a graduate of Virginia Tech, noted the 3-year-old was in tough competition with the closest competitor, a "powerful" aged cow, the 5-Year-old shown by Rebecca Nolan. But the younger cow had a smoother udder, he noted, with good teat placement and seam to the udder.

The aged cow, Dreamnol Trident Freckles (S: Ardrossan EV Kates Trident, bred by Rebecca Nolan), was exhibited by Rebecca, who also won junior champion with a winter calf, Dreamnol Rigil Freda (S: Covey - Palmyra Willy Rigil-ET), bred by Rebecca.

Another large class, the Brown Swiss division with 17 animals, impressed Daubert, herdsman for Jones Dairy Farm, Massey, Md. Daubert enjoyed the 2-year-old, Stone Fence Emorys Lilac (S: Victory Acres Jubilation Emory), bred and exhibited by Lisa Jones. The cow is "a super dairy cow, with a super udder, that stands really well on her legs," Daubert said.

Reserve Brown Swiss at Solanco was also exhibited by Lisa, a 4-Year-old, Brothers Three Jetway Lily (S: Forest Lawn Simon Jetways-ET), bred by Jacob Hushon.

The Jersey Show included five animals. Grand champion was exhibited by Nicole Welk, a spring yearling, HillacresShantzys Shugar (S: Silver Spring Winston), bred by Tom Arrowsmith. Reserve was a 2-year-old, Locust-Valley Star Scotch (S: Altheas Arrowstar), bred and shown by Kathy Findley.

The Milking Shorthorn show included three animals. Champion went to the 4-year-old, Miss Kourtney's Master Kricket (S: Red Cedar Master), bred by Lizzer Moser and shown by James Findley. Reserve was the 3-year-old shown by James Findley, Miss Kourtney's Peerless Kassy (S: Meriville Peerless), bred by Lizzer Moser.

This year's Solanco Fair theme, "Our Growing Community," was apt because of the newly constructed barn. The fair association, according to a recently published report, was able to secure $37,500 of the $90,000 cost of the new building, measuring approximately 16,800 square feet, from grants.

The barn will house all livestock, freeing up existing barns for nonlivestock exhibits previously housed in tents on the fairgrounds.

The new building was home, for the first time, to the lamb show.

A new food court construction project is in the planning stages, according to a published report, now that a livestock exhibit barn has been built.

Though entries were down this year from last, fair officials believed the quality was up at the fair.

At the dairy colored breeds contest there were approximately 18 exhibitors and about 85 animals.

Conference To Address Wildlife Damage Management

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — For professionals, agency personnel, and homeowners concerned with wildlife damage management, Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences will conduct a four-day conference, "Changes in Wildlife Damage Management for the 21st Century," Oct. 5-8 here at The Nittany Lion Inn.

"This conference will highlight the latest techniques in wildlife control," said Gary San Julian, professor of wildlife resources. "Information will be presented on wildlife that cause problems east of the Mississippi.

"For instance, geese have become a significant problem in both rural and urban parts of eastern Pennsylvania," he said. "They're increasing on beaches, grassy areas, golf courses, and sports fields. In some areas, geese must be kept off the reservoirs so people can drink the water. In Tobyhanna State Park, employees use large commercial vacuum cleaners to remove droppings on the way to the beach. On soccer fields, young people are coming out in white uniforms and leaving with green uniforms from all the fecal material."

Registration for the conference begins on Thursday, Oct. 5 at 5 p.m. (exhibitors and poster presenters) and 6 p.m. (other attendees). A reception follows from 7 to 9 p.m.

Presentations on Friday, Aug. 6 begin at 7:30 a.m. with exhibitor visitations and a continental breakfast. Friday sessions will focus on the history and future of wildlife damage management, future research needs and skills, disease issues, and turkey damage. At 1:30 p.m., buses will leave for a field trip to Penn State's Stone Valley Experimental Forest, Penn State's Deer Research Facility, and the Pennsylvania State Fish Hatchery.

Saturday sessions will cover such topics as wildlife damage in the suburbs; deer deterrents, dispersing cormorants; bird damage; capturing coyotes, bobcats, and raccoons; wildlife at airports; enhanced stakeholder communications; perceptions of whitetailed deer abundance and damage; immunocontraception for deer; urban crows; bats; beaver damage; and squirrel deterrents.

To request registration materials and a detailed schedule, call (814) 865-8301 or visit the World Wide Web at http://wildlife.cas.psu.edu.

For more information, contact Gary San Julian at (814) 863-0401 or jgs@psu.edu. Registrations will be accepted by mail or fax through Monday, Sept. 25. A late registration fee of $25 is required for registrations received after Sept. 25.

Registration costs $195 per person or $90 per day. Special student registrations are offered at $87. Registration includes the costs of instructional materials, proceedings, morning and afternoon breaks, luncheons, receptions and field trips. Tickets for Saturday evening's banquet ($28) must be purchased separately when preregistering.

Fair Conducts Market Beef Show

Andy Myers, 16, Ragers Corner, exhibited the grand champion steer at the Cambria County Fair. The animal also garnered county bred honors.

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

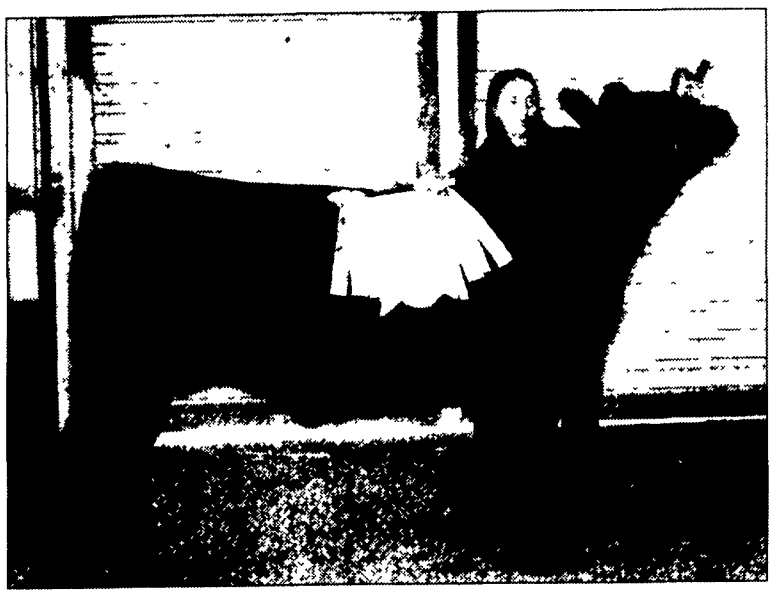
EBENSBURG (Cambria County) — Andy Myers, 16, Ragers Corner, may have his sights set on becoming a civil engineer, but for the present, he is elated to have the grand champion steer at the Cambria County Fair.

The 1,300-pound Angus crossbred was also the county bred champion.

Despite its being the fourth consecutive year for a Myers steer to claim the honors, Myers said, "This is great. We had a lot of competitive steers."

The Wilderness Hollow 4-H'er and junior at Forest Hills High School says raising capons is the primary family business. His parents are Mark and Diane Myers. He is the eldest of three children.

Kelly Myers — no relation to Andy — had the reserve champion steer, a 1,272-pound Angus crossbred. Kelly, 12, attends seventh grade at Forest Hills and belongs to the Cambria County 4-H Club.



The reserve champion steer in Cambria County is owned by Kelly Myers, 12, no relation to Andy Myers, who had the grand champion.

She said, "This is a first for me." Her parents are Daniel and Diane Myers of South Fork.

Jackie Christ had the reserve county bred champion.

Brian Hrutkey was the steer showmanship judge.

Pa. Christmas Trees To Adorn White House

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Agriculture Secretary Samuel E. Hayes Jr. recently commended Pennsylvania Christmas tree farmers Darryl and Amy Bowersox, Hill View Tree Farm, Middleburg, and Paul and Sharon Shealer, Evergreen Acres Christmas Tree Farm, Auburn, for being selected as co-grand champions of the National Christmas Tree Contest.

Their grand champion trees will be on display in the White House during the next two Christmas holiday seasons.

"These two winning Christmas Trees, each from Pennsylvania farms, demonstrate the excellence for which Pennsylvania agriculture is known," Hayes said. "Placing a Christmas tree in the Executive Mansion during the holiday season is an honor that is unparalleled for Christmas tree growers. To have a Pennsylvania tree selected for the next two Christmases, in both 2000 and 2001, is doubly special."

Lancaster County Farm Bureau To Celebrate 50 Years, Oct. 3

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Celebrating 50 years of serving the Lancaster County farming community, the Lancaster County Farm Bureau will hold its annual banquet on Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, at the Hershey Farm Restaurant, Strasburg.

In keeping with the celebration, the organization is trying to locate past presidents and board members of the Lancaster County Farm Bureau (formerly the Lancaster County Farmers Association) and invite them to the event. The entire evening will be devoted to a celebration of the farmer here in Lancaster County.

Tickets for the event are $10 and reservations can be sent to chairman Mr. Robert Best, 1181 Holtwood Road, Holtwood, Pa. 17532.

The Lancaster County Farm Bureau is a non-profit group dedicated to serving the farmers in this county, and is led by president Jane Balmer. The board of directors meets monthly at the Farm and Home Center, the first Tuesday of the month (excluding October), with meetings beginning at 7:30 p.m.

For more information about the group, contact either Robert Best or Jane Balmer at (717) 653-8454.

Insect Fair 'Survivors' Will Get Edible-Bug Challenge

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Visitors to Penn State's 2000 Great Insect Fair will be able to experience a challenge worthy of the cast members of "Survivor."

Sponsored by the College of Agricultural Sciences' entomology department, the fair will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sept. 23, in and around the Agricultural Sciences and Industries Building, near the corner of Curtin and Shortlidge roads on the University Park campus.

The brave and adventurous — and the hungry — can stop by the Insect Deli during the annual event and get their fill of arthropod delicacies, such as chocolate "chirpies" (crickets) and mealworm stir-fry.

"There won't be any $1 million prizes or tribal councils, but visitors will be able to do something that most of us normally don't do intentionally — eat insects," said Steven Jacobs, entomology extension associate and Insect Fair planner. "And unlike the squirming, live grubs the 'Survivor' castaways ate, our insect cuisine will be prepared in an appetizing way."

Many other activities are planned throughout the day, including:

- Cricket-spitting competition. Visitors who would prefer to spit out insects rather than swallow them can join this contest, with an eye toward setting a new world record for cricket-spitting. The competition, with senior and junior divisions for men and women, will be from 10:30 a.m.-noon and from 1:30 p.m.-3 p.m.
- Lady Bug Theatre. "Beeography" — an audience-participation play written and produced by State College-area middle school students — will be performed in 101 Ag Sciences and Industries Building. Kids in the audience will receive a set of wearable antennae while supplies last.
- Musical entertainment. Hear Carole Backman and the Caterpillars of Society. Local songsmith Tommy Wareham will make a special appearance.
- Roaches From Around the World. Live "death's head" roaches, giant Madagascar hissing cockroaches, and other exotic species will be on display.
- Insect Olympics. Under the "Bug Top" — a tent erected in a nearby parking lot — visitors will compare their physical prowess to that of bugs. Penn State athletes will make guest appearances.

Admission to the Great Insect Fair is free, although donations will be accepted to help defray costs.

For more information, call the entomology department at (814) 865-1895.

Weekly Dairy Market Outlook

U S milk production will actually decline from 167 7 billion pounds in 2000 to 167 5 in 2001 (see Table 3) They are forecasting an average Class III price in 2001of $11 10 per cwt, an increase of $0 95 per cwt from 2000. The mean Class IV price forecast for 2001, however, is expected to decline $0 30 per cwt to $11 40 They are forecasting the U S average all-milk price will increase $0 25 per cwt to $12 70 in 2001.

I find it hard to believe that the milk supply will actually decline in 2001 relative to this year My guess is that a 1-2 percent rate of growth in the milk supply for 2001 is possible I do agree that the Class III price will increase in 2001 relative to this year, but an increase of $0 95 per cwt is a bit high Here are my thoughts. Let's start with my estimate of $10 07 per cwt for the Class III price in 2000 That is a very conservative estimate I am going to assume that USDA will modify the formula for the Class III price (adjust the make allowance for protein) by early next year

That could add another $0 20-$0.50 per cwt And, a reduction in the rate of growth in the milk supply coupled with a moderately strong economy could add an additional $0 20-$0 30 per cwt to the Class III price. Add that all up and my estimate is the Class III price will be $10.47-$10.87 per cwt That will average $10 67 per cwt for 2001, up $0.60 per cwt from the year before

USDA's forecast for a lower Class IV price for 2001 looks reasonable since a tilt in the butter/powder support prices sometime next year looks inevitable.

Fiberglass Wheels

• Very Low Maintenance Costs
These wheels are built to last a lifetime & beyond & should not require having to replace any parts on the wheels under normal use. The only maintenance required will be occasional tightening of the lug nuts.
• High Performance Properties in All Environments
Wheels stay tight even in hot, dry conditions – No more loose & rattling spokes – ever!
• Rugged Heavy Duty Design
It takes a major accident or impact to break or twist these wheels.
• Hard Durable Surface
Resists scuffs and scratches, paint job stays shinier.
• Easier Cleaning
Spokes have all rounded corners, no tight spots for dirt to get into.

~ • The Advantages of the Fiberglass Springs are: ~

Fiberglass Springs

• Lightweight
A fiberglass spring weighs 22 lbs. less than a steel spring, 44 lbs. less weight on the carriage.
• Durable One Piece Design
No bolts to give out or wear.
• Better Performance With Heavy Loads
The more weight, the better the ride. Springs will not bottom out.
• No Fluxing Ever
Paint will not bleach or peel off. The paint actually sinks between the plys, providing a nice finish and much easier cleaning.
• A Lifetime Guarantee
If these springs ever break under normal use, we will replace them free of charge.
• Stabilizer Kits – Now Available
For a smoother ride and less bounce.

Scholars At Youth Institute

SHIPPENSBURG, (Cumberland Co.) — Eight scholars from the Southeast Region Council of Pennsylvania Council of Cooperatives (PCC) recently completed a four-day Youth Institute at Shippensburg University.

In attendance were Kristina Eshbach, Conestoga; Joshua Folk and Holly Moyer, Bernville; Robert Garrett, Pequea; Joel Krall and Amanda Martin, Lebanon; Lynn Stoner, Lititz; and Troy Wenger, Manheim.

Lehman Metzler of Willow Street and Debra Seibert of Ephrata accompanied the group and served as adult resource leaders for the institute. Richard Ferraioli of Royersford returned this year as a scholar staff leader, having attended the National Institute on Cooperative Education at Snow Bird Utah, in 1999. Gerald and Julie Strickler of Myerstown were institute staff members in charge of the chorale.

The 2000 Summer Youth Institute was the 40th in a series that began in 1961. The Institute is designed to enhance scholars' understanding and appreciation of cooperatives, issues of concern to cooperatives, and develop leadership skills.

Scholars are sponsored to the institute by local and regional cooperatives operating in the southeast region.

The Summer Institute is a joint effort of Pennsylvania Council of Cooperatives and the Penn State Cooperative Business Education and Research Program (CBERP). The program is partially supported by a Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture Youth Opportunity Grant.

Local scholars were joined by more than 80 scholars and adult resource leaders from across Pennsylvania. Institute participants join, manage, and operate MINICO's (mini-cooperative businesses) to gain hands on experience in devising a business plan, operating, and experiencing the results of their work.

Faculty and staff for the institute include cooperative leaders, Penn State faculty and staff, agricultural education teachers, and volunteers from the cooperative sector.

Penn State Lady Lion Swimmer Melinda Rehm inspired the scholars with her personal approach and experiences in setting and achieving your goals.

In addition to cooperative basics and planned leadership-building activities, scholars learned about important issues relating to environment, regulations, and the roles of individuals, businesses, and government in achieving solutions to agricultural issues. Discussion was led by farmer activist and Farm Partnership coalition member Larry Elwood. Each MINICO group was assigned an issue area and challenged to prepare an "action" campaign or initiative to address the problem. The four groups competed for a possible 100,000 government grant to worthy proposals. All four groups would have received some funding.

A highlight of the Institute each year is the Awards Dinner, during which nine scholars, including Joel Krall and Troy Wenger, earned scholarships to attend the 2000 National Institute on Cooperative Education (NICE) in Nashville, Tenn., July 31-August 3. Holly Moyer received the first place individual award in the talent show for singing "Edelweiss," and the entire Southeast Council received the first place talent show award for the skit that they performed.

SCHNUPP'S Flame KISSED

ROASTING IS SUPERIOR TO OTHER METHODS OF HEAT PROCESSED GRAIN

~ IT'S ECONOMICAL - The cost to operate a flame roaster is lower than other types of processing equipment. This makes roasting grain a more efficient method.

~ IT PURIFIES - Only a flame roaster can effectively remove molds and reduce toxins to tolerant levels As the individual grain rotates through the open flame, the mold dust around it is destroyed.

~ IT'S UNIFORM - Having the grain pass through the open flame and properly steeped, gives it a uniform treatment

~ IT'S PROFITABLE - Custom roasting on your farm
*Gives you the ability to feed your own grain, not someone elses
* Eliminates trucking expenses
* No mill charges shrinkage, storage and handling
* When grain needs to be purchased, you can have it roasted on your farm and know how it is processed

Dairyman to Dairyman

Written by: George Cudoc, PA DHIA Consulting Dairyman

Question: Our TMR is made up of haylage, high moisture corn, and a protein supplement. How fine should we grind the high moisture corn?

The first piece of information that we need is already supplied in the question. The type of forage that we feed plays a large part in the way we balance the diet. This holds true for the physical preparation of the grains that we use to achieve this balance. Balancing the amount of corn on this or any dairy is key to fine-tuning carbohydrate feeding that will optimize production while avoiding rumen health problems. Haylage is the only forage fed on this dairy, therefore we need to consider fine to medium processing of the high moisture corn. This should work well since the corn is part of a TMR and there is no other major source of starch in the diet. Knowing if the grind should be medium or fine can be determined according to the moisture content of the high moisture corn.

We need to remember that fermentation of the corn is like the start of the digestion process of the cow. For high moisture corn and corn silage, wetter usually means more and quicker availability of the starch component. High moisture corn below 25% moisture may ferment well enough to store, but we usually can use it the same as dry shelled corn and will need to process it accordingly. High moisture corn over 30% moisture is usually very readily available to the cow even to the point of being somewhat "explosive" as it enters the rumen. Keeping this in mind, we can often grind it much coarser and get full utilization. Corn silage that has adequate grain in it, reacts in the cow similarly with higher moistures bringing along a faster and greater availability. Processing of corn silage in the field has had a dramatic effect on how it is used by the cow.

Observing manure is the easiest method to use to determine if the corn used in this diet is processed properly. Undigested parts or whole kernels of corn may tell us that we need to process the grain finer. On this farm a great deal of corn is observed in the manure. Fiber particles are not seen and the manure throughout the barnyard appeared very consistent. The same screen is being used in the hammer mill, as was last year. The current corn tests 18% moisture, which is considerably drier than last year at 27%. Corn that is this dry needs to be enhanced physically for cows to use it properly and grinding with a smaller screen may help.

Fine-tuning the ration to best utilize carbohydrates will lead to better production as a result of increased rumen health. We also need to consider the physical properties such as moisture and processing. The same feeds processed differently can lead to much different results. As a general rule higher moistures in the source of the carbohydrates will require less processing. Forages that are higher in carbohydrates will also reduce the need to process grains as much. TMR feeding will allow us to feed finer grains when that becomes necessary. These are only rules of thumbs and you should look to manure observation and cow performance as your guide. The MUN tool will also be of help by evaluating protein and carbohydrate balance in the diet. We want to be sure that protein needed for digestion of the corn is adequate or grinding finer will just make it harder to see in the manure.

Best Friends Again Share Champion Spotlight At Solanco Lamb Show

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

QUARRYVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — In a repeat performance from last year, two best friends won champion honors at the Solanco Fair Sheep Show Wednesday afternoon.

Tiffany Dean, Strasburg, won grand champion market lamb and Allison Hughes, Lancaster, won reserve — just like last year — at Solanco.

Show judge Ron Miller, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture division chief, livestock and fairs, Bernville, picked the heavyweight champion shown by Tiffany.

"It makes you appreciate the whole package," Miller said of Tiffany's 142-pound Hampshire/Suffolk ewe.

Tiffany, 14, is the daughter of Gary and Joan Dean, Strasburg. Tiffany is in the eighth grade at Martin Meylin Middle School.

The ewe was purchased at a sale conducted by Tim and Sarah Fleener, Robesonia, in April.

Tiffany noted that she and Allison Hughes, who won reserve champion, are best friends who help each other out — to a point — in the championship.

But how they care for the lambs up to show time remains a "secret," said Tiffany.

Tiffany didn't believe she was in the competition at all, thinking Allison or another competitor, Brian Mull, would win.

Tiffany exhibited at the Jackpot Show in Somerset County, 4-H roundup, and at the Ag Progress Lamb Skillathon and Show. She plans to show at the Keystone International Livestock Expo (KILE) and Farm Show.

Reserve shown by Allison Hughes was the 128-pound light heavyweight division winner, "Tigger," a Suffolk/Hampshire wether. .

Allison, 14, is the daughter of Chet and Marie Hughes, Lancaster. Allison is in the ninth grade at Lampeter-Strasburg High School.

Allison named the lamb Tigger based on the Winnie the Pooh character. She wrote a paper for her language arts class in school, noting the lamb jumps so much and is hard to control sometimes, just like the Pooh character, according to her father, Chet.

Chet noted the lamb was obtained from Don Witt, Champion, Fayette County.

Allison plans to compete at the West Lampeter Community Farm Show next week and, perhaps, at state Farm Show.

There were 47 exhibitors and 76 lambs at the show in the new livestock building.

The show helped christen the new, 16,800 square foot exhibits building at Solanco Fair.

Following is a list of show placings.

considering many feeders are cleaning out their barns to start fresh. Prices for Virginia feeder cattle have eased up over the last several weeks and 800 lb black feeder steers can now be purchased for under 80.00 cwt. However, the local demand for replacement feeders will soon skyrocket as farmers finish filling their silos and become anxious to feed this years abundant crop. Western fat cattle prices were steady to .50 higher this week, trading from 65.00-65.50 live and mostly 103.00 dressed. Local Holstein steers closed steady to .50 lower Slaughter cow trading was active and prices ended 1.00-2.00 higher, while slaughter bulls finished mostly 1 00 lower. Supply included 40 percent slaughter steers, 7 percent slaughter heifers, 40 percent cows, 6 percent bulls with the balance feeders.

Embellish To Cover Up Or Make New

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LEESPORT (Berks Co.) — Got a stain on your favorite blouse? Worn out your jacket cuffs?

Don't despair.

"Embellish to cover up a rip or stain. Make it new and wearable," advises Shirley Adams.

> "You don't need to be an artist. Everyone can do this"
> Shirley Adams
> Adams said.

At a recent workshop held at the Berks County Ag Center, Adams showed hundreds of clothing pieces where she performed her magic by using fabric scraps, yarn, and ravelings. Yes, ravelings, those pieces of threads you throw away.

If it sounds tacky, then you've got to see the works of art Adams performs by using bobbin work, couching, machine applique, and other sewing techniques.

"I got this idea from seeing a $4,000 Armandi jacket in a shop," Adams said as she lifts up a black silk jacket with artistic embellishing.

"If you use scraps, you have nothing to lose. It's just fun," Adams says of creating and updating wardrobes.

Don't think that she's spent a lot of time on items such as patchwork vests. She uses fusible interfacing to built a log cabin pattern, presses with an iron, and finishes with machine decorative stitching to hide raw edges.

Some other favorite designs is using ravelings dropped on top of a black background and stipple stitched to hold in place.

Evening and matching purses made with fabric scraps, discarded scarves, crazy quilt stitches, and buttons, add a coordinated look to wardrobes.

Although Adams knows all the rules of sewing, she occasionally breaks them to create an effect. For example, fabric should always be cut on grain. If cut off grain, the finished garment will pull out of shape. Knowing this, Adams sometimes cuts a piece off grain, but fuses it to a backing to retain its shape. However, she stressed that tubes, piping, and binding need to be cut on the bias to curve without puckering.

Adams also uses bits and pieces of scarves to stitch on jackets and vests. She likes the dramatic effect created by the play of textures on the same garment.

"If it's a pricey fabric, think how little you can use," Adams said. She showed how she created several different coordinated outfits by using a touch of fabric in different ways.

Adams recommends that most embellishment be done at the neck and shoulders to draw attention to one's face rather than one's body.

"If you don't like a fabric, wrinkle it for an entirely different look," Adams said. She demonstrated fusing fabric while wrinkling with fingers and stitching with metallic thread to hold wrinkles in place.

Pin weaving is another concept she incorporates. Using a curved tapestry needle and pretty yarns and ribbons, she weaves a design to a fabric back.

Adams demonstrated making your own chenille by using three to seven layers of rayon fabric and stitching, slitting, and washing.

Adams said that gets her ideas from everywhere. During a flight, she noticed the beauty of farmers contoured fields. Using this concept, she fashioned a vest with different fabrics arranged similar to contoured fields.

Adams has her own line of patterns that introduces a new concept in patterns. For example, her Alternatives 100 Classic Vest includes patterns and instructions to create 25 different styles by using couching, color blocking, bobbin work, weaving fabric strips, wrinkling fabrics, appliquing, and other effects.

"It's no sense in making the same thing over and over again. Make an original," Adams said of her theory behind her patterns.

"You don't need to be an artist. Everyone can do this," she said of designing.

At the workshop at the Berks County Extension, Adams showed how to adjust patterns to help clothes hang correctly. Most people have a higher shoulder or hip on one side. Adams said that adjustments should be made at the waist to enable skirts and pants to hang perfectly. She also demonstrated changing sleeve and bodice patterns to fit one's body type.

"Nothing is a mistake. If you don't like the effect, consider it a creative opportunity to change it," Adams said. She showed how a few of her "mistakes" took on new life when buttons, loops, and additional applique were added.

Adams, a former Indiana extension specialist, taught sewing workshops via television for many years. She travels the states teaching workshops.

Adams uses only four basic patterns to create a whole wardrobe of 75 garments. The patterns are available in sizes XS to XXl with instructions on how to fit the pattern to your size.

Each pattern offers instructions and variations in add-on pieces, style changes, size increases, and embellishment procedures. Garments can also be made adornment free.

For more information on Adams' patterns, books, and videos, write to The Sewing Connection, P.O. Box 688, Plainfield, IN 46168. Phone 1-800-237-4475. Website is www.sewingconnection.com

Nothing goes to waste in Shirley Adams' sewing room. A former television sewing instructor and Indiana extension agent, Adams demonstrates the ease with which a wardrobe can be updated and embellished using scraps of materials, fabric ravelings, threads, yarns, and buttons. The jacket she is holding was created by couching varigated yarns on a fabric backing.

Using bobbin work, Adams created this wild flower garden by duplicating a design from a flower catalog. First, place the stems, leaves, and foliage. Then top with loopy flowers.

Some articles are just for fun. Adams created this when she needed a Western outfit for a party. The dancing stick figures are an example of Adams' philosopy that one doesn't need to be an artist to create original designs.

Committee members who arranged the workshop at the Berks County extension office, from left, are Jeanne Maddaloni, Elaine Baro, Sylvia Blomquist, Fay Strickler, Berks County consumer science agent; Nancy Evans, Carol Miller, and Catharine Smith.

Duplicate designer clothes which cost a fortune. This waterfall design was created by placing fabric on hoop, laying ravelings on top, and moving the fabric up and down while machine stitching with different shades of thread.

If Weather Cools, Fall Foliage Will Have Superb Colors

LOU ANN GOOD

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — If temperatures cool over the next four weeks and combine with a mild drought, fall foliage watchers in Pennsylvania should have a superior display of color this year, says an expert in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

"It's been a wet and somewhat cool summer, so most of the trees have been under no stress and have had a vigorous growing season, which sets the stage for colorful fall foliage," says Marc Abrams, professor of forest ecology and physiology.

"However, the weather in the next four weeks is critical," Abrams says. "We have to have cool temperatures falling into the 30s and 40s at night, as well as bright sunny days with no rain. A short, mild drought, in other words.

"If the warm, wet weather persists, the growing season is extended and the leaves will remain green much longer," Abrams explains. "An extended growing season means we may see less impressive colors, with different trees changing at different times."

For 14 years, Abrams has studied how seasonal precipitation and temperature influence timing and intensity of fall colors in central Pennsylvania. "We believe that clear, bright days, low — but not freezing — temperatures and dry conditions promote the best fall colors," he says.

Cooler temperatures signal deciduous trees to stop producing chlorophyll, the green pigment responsible for photosynthesis, he explains. The chlorophyll breaks down and disappears, unmasking other leaf pigments. It's these other pigments — called xanthophylls and carotenes — that create the glowing yellows and oranges seen in the leaves of yellow poplar, hickory, sycamore, honey locust, birch, beech and certain maples.

After chlorophyll production stops, trees also produce another pigment in their leaves called anthocyanin, Abrams explains. The anthocyanins create the brilliant reds and purples seen in maple, sassafras, sumac, black gum and purple oak.

The amount of anthocyanin produced each year is related to starch levels in the tree. Trees often produce less starch during droughts.

All predictions aside, Abrams says not to worry. "We almost always have good color in this region in the fall," he says. "All systems are go if the weather cooperates."

Hormones And Hunters Put More Deer On Highways

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Motorists should be particularly wary of deer on the highways during the breeding and hunting seasons, says a wildlife biologist in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

"Bucks seem to lose their caution when breeding and run across roads without even thinking about traffic," says Gary San Julian, professor of wildlife resources. "Also, does being chased by bucks often don't heed roads. Then, on November 27, nearly a million gun hunters will enter the woods and stir deer up even more."

Breeding season for white-tailed deer ranges from October to December but peaks in November, San Julian explains. "Each year, PennDOT and individual contractors pick up more than 40,000 deer from the state's highways," he says. "Probably another 40,000 get hit and go off into the woods to die. It is estimated that deer-vehicle collisions cost insurance companies and motorists more than $130 million each year in Pennsylvania."

In 1997, the Erie Insurance Group averaged 34 deer claims daily, San Julian says. On the first day of the buck and doe seasons, the number of calls increased to 157 and 160, respectively.

Each accident costs the driver an average of $2,000. It's also very easy to get hurt when you're driving 60 miles per hour and a 150-pound deer comes flying through your windshield.

Drivers should be especially vigilant in areas where they've seen deer in the past. High beams will help you see their eyes shine. Remember, if you see one deer, often more will be following behind."

If you hit a deer, San Julian recommends that you stop to see if the deer is still alive, and if so, try to contact a wildlife enforcement officer or the state police.

In Pennsylvania, residents can pick up road-killed deer, but they must apply to the Game Commission within 24 hours for a free permit to keep deer carcasses. Call the Game Commission's regional office for an application.

The progress potential is awesome.

Computerized monitoring of our households is just around the corner.

Somewhere.

Commonplace to our living quarters of the future will be comprehensive home-watch systems, featuring such promises as digital printouts from your freezer and refrigerator, confirming at a quick glance that the ice cream is staying frozen and the leftover pizza cool. And glowing numbers blinking at you while you vacuum up dog hair and barn straw from the living room carpet, noting perhaps the motor power load and the machine's dust-gulping function working at 95 percent peak capacity. Which would blink "error, error, error!" when you accidentally pick up one of the kids' small toys which lodges in the machine's innards — and have to be re-programmed after it sucks up a Lego block.

We're headed there, if we believe the predictions of the gee-whiz, digital developers. Having just read about a computer-future-convention, where one of the features was a computerized barbecue grill (yeah...go figure), I can't help but anticipate this with just a shade of skepticism.

Rather than just pester me with information, I'd like the promise of a computerized system which really tackles the mundane, ordinary household challenges.

How about a digitalized refrigerator-freezer, which not only defrosts itself, but also cleans itself out once a week? Give me a system that dumps out the fuzzy, half-cup of leftover lima beans...the blue-hued, half-crust of bread...that container of...no thanks, I don't even want to know. Just please pitch it for me.

Now that would be progress.

Give me a computerized cleaning system that faithfully — programmed every three days, or so — pokes itself under the appliance cart to suck up those errant grapes which pop off the clusters the grandkids are nibbling, roll across our well-trained, old-farmhouse, slightly-tilted floor and go into hiding. A system that doggedly goes after the population explosion of dust bunnies reproducing under the beds. An entertainment system capable of both taping and storing programs from the TV and polishing the sticky handprints from its own screen.

Now that would be progress.

Give me a system that keeps track of where I left my sneakers the last time I took them off. A system that scans the mail, which methodically sorts the numerous bills into one pile and tosses the lone check onto another, while at the same time ripping and shredding all that junk mail into garden mulch.

Give me a microwave which intuitively knows what to have ready for mid-day lunch — and pinpoint the exact time between 11:45 a.m. and 1:15 p.m. when The Farmer will show up to eat it. Give me a coffeepot that empties its own grounds, refills itself, and dumps the half-cup of remaining brew when it reaches industrial-strength staleness.

Give me a digital dishwasher which unloads itself and stows the glasses away in the cupboard without breaking them.

Give me a computerized bathtub-n-tile scrubber. An automatic bedsheet remover which carts the bedclothes to the basement, hangs them out to dry in the sunshine, then carts them back and re-installs them before bedtime.

Give me a computerized system to scrub forage-harvester and combine grease out of tee-shirts and jeans. Which turns socks right-side-out. Which retrieves the buttons gobbled off during the washing process and sews them back on automatically.

And, computer guys, while you're fine-tuning all this stuff, how about figuring out how we can have appliances which reset their own digital brains after the power flickers off, without sitting there and flashing "888888" at us in glowing red numbers.

Now, THAT would be progress.

What's The Difference Between A Spice And An Herb?

An herb is the leaf from plants or shrubs with non-woody stems. Think oregano, basil, parsley, mint or thyme. A spice, on the other hand, is the seed, bark, root, fruit or flower from plants. Think cinnamon, pepper, caraway, clove or mustard seed.

Herbs usually have a milder flavor, while spices tend to be stronger and more pungent. However, for many people, calling something an "herb" or a "spice" is a distinction without a difference.

In some cases, though, the distinction can make a big difference. Some plants give us both a spice and an herb — both their seeds and their leaves can be used to flavor your favorite culinary dishes. But even though they come from the same plant, they have different flavors and really can't be used interchangeably.

Take coriander, for example. The coriander leaf is also called cilantro; its flavor has been described as "strong, pungent and earthy," but distinctly different from the coriander seed, which has a citrus or lemony flavor with a touch of sage.

Similarly, dillweed, the herb, is the feathery leaf of the dillweed plant. Its flavor has been called "fresh and sweet," while the small, hard dried seeds of the spice "dillseed" have a sharper, more bitter, dominant flavor.

With herbs and spices like these, make sure you know what the recipe calls for before you add it.

Spices are almost always dried before they get to the cook, but can be used whole, crushed or ground. Most herbs can be used fresh or dried. Fresh herbs don't last very long — use them immediately after picking, if possible. To store, keep them in the refrigerator in a perforated plastic bag. When you are ready to use them, wash the herbs gently under cool (not cold) water and pat dry between paper towels.

Dried spices and herbs keep their flavor longer if stored in airtight containers in a dark, dry, cool place. Over the kitchen range may not be the best choice, because heat and moisture can cause them to lose flavor much more quickly.

Why Should My House Have A Smoke Detector?

It's very important to have a smoke detector in your home to warn you of fire danger. More than 40,000 people are killed in residential fires each year in the United States, and more than $8 billion worth of property damage is caused by these fires.

Most fire victims die of inhalation of smoke and toxic gases, not because of burns. These deaths occur mainly at night, when people are sleeping and not aware of the fire about to harm them. Smoke detectors work by sensing the rising smoke from a fire. They sound a piercing alarm that is loud enough to awaken people. Before the concentration of smoke reaches a dangerous level, or before the fire becomes too intense, the alarm sounds.

Smoke detectors can save lives, prevent injuries and minimize property damage because someone is alerted to call the fire department before the fire is uncontrollable.

You should have at least one smoke detector on every floor of your house. The upstairs senses smoke wherever it originates, and the downstairs unit will react sooner to a fire that could block escape routes on the first floor.

Zucchini Recipes You Won't Squash

ZUCCHINI CHOCOLATE CAKE

½ cup butter, softened
½ cup Canola oil
1¼ cup sugar, granulated
2 eggs

Combine butter, oil, sugar, and eggs and mix well. Add the following:

1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 cup sour milk
2½ cups flour
4 tablespoons powdered cocoa
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 cups grated zucchini

Mix well. Pour into greased and floured 9x13-inch cake pan. Sprinkle top of cake with 12-ounce bag milk chocolate chips. Bake at 325 degrees for 50 minutes.

Here's a great recipe to use extra zucchini. It's quick and easy. Our family really enjoys this cake.

CHEESY ZUCCHINI

1 cup Pepperidge Farm stuffing
1 large onion, coarsely sliced or chopped
1 or 2 large green peppers, cut into squares
5 or 6 thin zucchini cut into coins
½ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 large tomato, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon thyme
Pepper to taste
2 cups grated Swiss cheese

Saute peppers and onion about 3 minutes, add zucchini and mushrooms and saute about 3 more minutes. Add tomato and seasonings and cook about one more minute. Layer in greased 9x13-inch casserole:

Stuffing
½ of the vegetables
1 cup cheese
Remaining vegetables

Cover and bake in 350 degree oven for about 30 minutes or until very hot and bubbly. Add remaining cheese and return to oven, uncovered, for about 10 minutes more.

Featured Recipe

Maybe you're overwhelmed with end-of-summer zucchini squash. Maybe your family complains about the never-ending meals of zucchini.

If so, that's because you don't have the right recipes. Many wonderful recipes for zucchini exist. Some recipes definitely expose zucchini and its squash-like texture and other recipes thoroughly camouflaged its bland taste and "vegetable" roots. Because zuchinni doesn't have a strong flavor and usually absorbs the flavorings of the added ingredients, it is a very versatile vegetable for turning into casseroles, desserts, appetizers, salads, and even pizza.

Thanks to the many readers who sent in recipes — proof that zucchini is a prolific staple during the growing season and in many households.

Here is an easy recipe to use during balmy autumn weather.

SOUTHWESTERN LAMB KABOBS

1½ pounds leg of American lamb, cubed
2 yellow bell peppers, cut in squares
2 red bell peppers, cut in squares
2 zucchini, cut into squares
16 small green chili peppers
2 cups rice
4 cups chicken broth
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon black pepper
2 medium-size tomatoes, diced
¼ cup finely chopped cilantro

Marinade:

¼ cup olive oil
2 cloves garlic, crushed
¼ cup lime juice
¼ cup apple juice
1 teaspoon honey
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
⅛ teaspoon chili powder
⅛ teaspoon hot pepper sauce

To prepare marinade, heat olive oil and saute garlic. Add remaining ingredients; bring to a boil. Let cool; place lamb cubes in marinade. Refrigerate, covered, 8-24 hours. Skewer lamb, alternately with peppers and zuchinni. Baste with remaining marinade. Broil or grill 12-14 minutes turning frequently. Meanwhile, bring broth to a boil, add rice and simmer 20 minutes. Add butter and pepper. Toss with diced tomatoes and cilantro. Serves 8.

Maryland State Fairgoers Carve Up Cheese

PHILADELPHIA — What can you do with a five-pound block of Cheddar cheese?

A former Wisconsin native found his inspiration in a cow and won the "Beyond Cheddar Cheese Carving Contest" held recently at the Maryland State Fair.

Brian Reetz of Baltimore, Md., with carving tool in hand, created the likeness of a cow from his block of cheese. Reetz was one of four contestants to compete in the contest, which was sponsored by the American Dairy Association/Dairy Council Middle Atlantic and the Maryland Dairy Princess Committee.

Reetz and the other contestants were selected at random from the audience. They each were given a five-pound block of Cheddar cheese, carving tools and ample space to carve their own cheese creation. The carvings were judged on originality, creativity, and visual appearance.

For his first-place win, Reetz received a basket filled with cheese and cheese-related items.

Jeff Myers, emcee of the Cheese Carving Contest, introduces Brian Reetz, holding his cow sculpture, as the winner of the Cheese Carve-Off.

He and the other contestants — Kacey Jackson of Towson, Md.; Rob Vendramin of Phoenix, Md.; and Pam Swanson of Sparks, Md. — also received an "Ahh, the power of Cheese" T-shirt.

ZUCCHINI CUSTARD PIE

3 cups grated zucchini, unpeeled, drained, squeezed dry
¼ cup sugar
½ cup butter
3 eggs
½ cup coconut, flaked
1 teaspoon coconut flavoring

Cream sugar and butter, add flavoring. Add eggs one at a time. Beat well and fold in zucchini and coconut. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees. Reduce heat to 350 degrees, bake until a knife in center comes out clean.

Note: Place a cookie sheet beneath the pie plate in case it runs over.

ZUCCHINI QUICHE

6 cups unpeeled, grated zucchini, squeezed dry
2 cups Swiss cheese, grated
4 eggs
1 cup Bisquick
¼ cup vegetable oil
½ teaspoon salt, if desired
1 teaspoon Italian seasoning

Mix together ingredients. Put into two greased pie pans. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven 60 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Place cookie sheet underneath pie plate or pan in case pie overflows.

Do You Suffer From Fibromyalgia?

When I was introduced to New Image I was 50 pounds over weight and suffered from fibromyalgia I was so depressed and in pain the majority of the time I was taking steroids and four other medications, one of which made me so 'groggy' I could hardly get out of bed and another gave me ulcers I began taking New Image secretly because I thought my family would make fun of me After a month, I discovered I had lost eight pounds and seven inches Wow! Then it dawned on me, I was feeling better, the depression and pain were gone In two months I was off all medications "I feel SUPERIFIC!" Now, two years later I have lost 43 pounds and 30 inches Thank you New Image for giving me a new life again Judy Swift - Mt Washington, KY

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send a self-addressed stamped envelope. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible. Check your recipe to make sure you copy the right amounts and complete instructions for making the recipe. Sometimes we receive numerous answers to the same request, but cannot print each one.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address. You may also e-mail questions and answers to lgood.eph@lnpnews.com

Notice: Several readers write that they have problems accessing this address. The common mistake is that readers are substituting an "i" for the lowercase "l (L)" needed in two places. If you are having problems reaching this address, please check to make sure you are typing an "l (L)" in both places and not an "i."

QUESTION — Helen Kofron, Claymont, Del., wants a recipe for ground beef barbecue that tastes like that served at Shady Maple patio.

QUESTION — Pat Elligson, Millers, Md., wants a recipe for Sweet and Sour Cucumber Salad that tastes like that served at the Columbia Family Restaurant, Columbia. The salad has a clear, slightly syrupy dressing and is delicious.

QUESTION — Pat Elligson, Millers, Md., wants a recipe for Devil's Food Tunnel Cake with a creamy white filling baked in the center. It is baked in a tube or a bundt pan. Pat recalls that there used to be a cake mix for this but she hasn't seen it for a long time. She prefers to make it from scratch.

QUESTION — L. Groff, Denver, wants a recipe for pie made with ground cherries, which she is now harvesting.

QUESTION — Donna Balascad writes that she tasted a wonderful mint tea at the Hay Creek Fall Festival. The tea was yellow and looked like lemonade. Donna has a garden filled with mint and doesn't know what to do with it. Anyone able to help her?

QUESTION — Harry is looking for an apple dumpling recipe in which the apples are not baked but boiled or steamed.

QUESTION — A reader requested an old recipe for clear bean soup made with fresh pork.

QUESTION — Cecile Bartle, Oxford, N.Y., wants recipes using canned baby food.

QUESTION — Gloria Bollinger, Keyman, Md., wants recipes to make watermelon pickles, one using sugar and one sugar-free.

QUESTION — W. Elicker, Dillsburg, wants an old-time recipe for sour pickles.

QUESTION — Elaine Fyock, Windber, is looking for a cookie recipe called Cow Patties. She also wants other dessert and snack recipes with a cute farm title.

QUESTION — Betsy Rust, Hamburg, N.J., wants a recipe for plum pieorogies. It's a dough that is filled with small Italian plums.

QUESTION — Mary Gothel, Millerstown, wants a listing of cholesterol counts in all meats, especially venison.

QUESTION — Elam Lapp, Myerstown, wants a recipe for making homemade hard cheese similar to farmers' cheese by using Jersey cow milk.

QUESTION — Durwood Tuttle, Knoxville, makes sweet pickles in a crock that he stores in a cellar. About three weeks ago, a gray fuzzy mold formed all over the crock. He washed the crock thoroughly with bleach water but it doesn't keep the mold from forming again. Any help would be appreciated.

QUESTION — A reader wants to know why there are strings and other sediments that attach to mixer beaters while mashing potatoes. Is it the potato variety used, the speed used to mash the potatoes or some other reason?

QUESTION — Rachel Musser is searching for a spaghetti sauce recipe that tastes similar to Prego pasta sauce (traditional).

QUESTION Charles Cramer, New Market, Md., would like a copy of the "Lancaster Level Flo Cookbook (Recipes From the Land of the Pennsylvania Dutch)." His family enjoyed a recipe that they believe was originally published in this 1970's cookbook. The potato salad recipe had a delicious salad dressing.

QUESTION — Several months ago Michael Brennan, Wilkes Barre, was at an auction in Sullivan County where he ate chicken noodle soup. He writes that it was delicious and looked to be only noodles and chicken. He believes the people at the food stand were from Berks County and were also selling beef vegetable soup. Brennan would like both recipes.

QUESTION — A Newburg reader would like recipes for jams and jellies or fruit spreads without sugar or artificial sweetener. She'd like recipes that taste similar to brands such as Polaner's All Fruit, Spreadable Fruit, or Smucker's Simply 100% Fruit.

QUESTION — Like many of our readers, Bonnie Koons, Harrisburg, writes that she loves B section and all the recipes she tries from it are great. She wants a recipe for cheesecake cookies, which have a snickerdoodle recipe base, cheesy center, and a cherry on top.

QUESTION — Shirley Schwoerer, Wysox, requests a recipe for canned pickled sausages or ring bologna. If we do not receive an answer to this request within two weeks, we assume our readers do not know the answer and will drop the request.

ANSWER — Elaine Fyock, Windber, wanted a cookie recipe called Cow Patties and other dessert and snack recipes with a cute farm title. Thanks to Anne Wiegle, Pottstown, for sending a recipe.

Cow Chip Cookies

6 eggs
2 cups brown sugar
2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup melted butter
1½ pounds peanut butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon corn syrup
4 tablespoons baking soda
22-ounce box quick-cooking oatmeal
½ pound chocolate chips
½ pound M&M chocolate candies
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup raisins

In large bowl, mix together eggs, sugars, melted butter, peanut butter, vanilla, corn syrup, and baking soda; mix well.

Add oatmeal, candies, chopped nuts, and raisins; mix well.

Spray pan with cooking spray. Using ice cream scoop, drop dough on cookie sheet. Flatten for cow chip cookies. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven for 10-12 minutes. Dough may be frozen to use later.

ANSWER — Kenneth Hixon, Warfordsburg, wanted a recipe for making gherkin pickles. Thanks to Ruth Aument, Peach Bottom, for sending this recipe.

Sweet Gherkin Pickles

6¼ pounds immature cucumbers (1½-3-inches long)
6 cups cider vinegar
¾ teaspoon turmeric
2 teaspoons celery seed
2 teaspoons whole pickling spices
8 sticks cinnamon, 1-inch long
½ teaspoon fennel seeds
2 cups honey

Wash cucumbers, place in large container, cover with cold water and ice cubes. Refrigerate 5 hours. Drain. Place cucumbers in large enamel or stainless steel pot. Add vinegar, turmeric, and cheesecloth bag containing spices. Bring to a boil. Add honey. Bring to boil again. Remove cheesecloth bag. Pack cucumbers into hot, scalded pint jars. Cover with boiling liquid, leaving ¼-inch headspace. Seal and process 10 minutes in boiling water bath. Makes about 10 pints.

ANSWER — Sylvia Allgyer, Christiana, wanted a recipe for sourdough seven grain bread. Thanks to Ruth Aument, Peach Bottom, for sending a recipe.

Seven Grain Bread

6 cups whole wheat flour
¼ cup cornmeal
¼ cup rye flour
¼ cup buckwheat flour
¼ cup soy flour
¼ cup oat flour
¼ cup barley flour
1 tablespoon dry yeast
2 cups warm water
⅓ cup molasses
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
½ teaspoon salt

Combine the seven flours in a large bowl and set aside. In another large bowl combine yeast in water. Add remaining ingredients. Add enough seven grain flour mixture to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto a floured board and knead.

If dough is too sticky, add wheat flour while kneading. Form into ball, place in oiled bowl, turn once to oil top and cover with cloth. Let rise until double in bulk, about one hour.

Punch down, divide into two loaves, and place in greased 8½X4½-inch loaf pans. Cover and allow to rise only until dough reaches the top of the pans. Do not allow to rise more than one hour in a warm place or the bread will fall.

Bake in preheated 375 degree oven for 40 minutes.

ANSWER — Thanks to Marla Martin, Waynesboro, for sending in her recipe for chicken cacciatore, which had been requested by a Blain reader.

Chicken Cacciatore

8-12 skinless, boneless chicken breasts

Lay breasts in a large flat baking dish. Combine the following and simmer 20 minutes:

16-ounces stewed tomatoes
8-ounces tomato sauce
2 cloves garlic
2 bay leaves
2 teaspoons dried oregano
½ teaspoon dried rosemary

After the sauce is cooked, remove bay leaves and garlic. Pour sauce over chicken. Sprinkle the following on top:

¼-½ cup minced onion
½ cup chopped bell pepper (green and red)
2½-ounces sliced mushrooms

Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes, covered. Sprinkle with 1½ cups mozzarella cheese and ½ cup Parmesan cheese. Bake 15 more minutes, uncovered.

Cook 8-ounces spaghetti noodles according to package instructions. Drain, rinse with hot water, and serve chicken over noodles.

ANSWER — For the Leesport subscriber who had problems with sponge and chiffon cakes, here are some additional hints for improving the cakes.

Ruth Aument writes that it is important to invert pan immediately after taking from oven. This allows air to cool the pan more evenly. Most recipes tell you to invert pan on a soda bottle, which works well so long as the cake doesn't fall out of the pan. Instead, use a candlestick holder that is lower to the table. It's best to use a 10-inch tube pan (not greased) and to bake one hour at 325 degrees.

Over or underbeating of eggs can also cause a problem. Be sure the egg yolk part of mixture is thick, satiny, and lemon-colored before adding to egg whites, which must be beaten to very stiff peaks. Gently fold in egg whites, do not over mix.

ANSWER — A reader wanted a recipe for elderberry wine. Thanks to Tom Stutzman, Hegins, who recommends a recipe that appears in the book, "Winemaking as a Hobby," published by Penn State University and available through Presque Isle in Erie, Pa. For more information, call (814) 725-1314.

Ida's Notebook

by

Ida Risser

September has always been a busy month as so many things from the garden need to be harvested. One thing that I won't be doing this year is making grape juice. I was surprised to find no grapes on the vines and I wonder if birds ate them.

Not only must we finish outdoor work but now social events take time too.

There are picnics to finish off the season and family gatherings. My three sisters and I got together at the Whitaker Center in Harrisburg. We saw "Everest" at the Imax Theater. It was the dramatic true story of men and women who tried to climb the highest mountain in the world. Many who attempt the climb never return due to wind and snow storms.

The day spent with my sisters ended with a picnic at Muddy Run. We missed seeing an Indian Powwow as we arrived a bit too late but we enjoyed fellowship around a small bonfire near my sister's recreational vehicle.

My cucumbers have finally finished bearing and now there are 76 pints of pickles on the canning shelf. Now the grandchildren who like them so much had better visit us.

They recently moved into a new house that they had built in Delaware. The oldest daughter stayed in Richmond, Virginia as she started college this fall. She is a straight "A" student and got a full scholarship to college there. Years ago our oldest daughter also got a full scholarship to Alfred University in New York. This is always a big help when they want a lot of education beyond college.

Notes For Dads

Patreese Ingram
Penn State Extension
Fathers As Single Parents: A Growing Trend

In 1990, about one million divorced and separated fathers in this country were raising about 1.5 million children alone. At this time an additional 100,000 widowers were raising children alone. While the single father raising his children alone is definitely the exception, the number of single fathers with sole custody will continue to grow. More fathers are seeking custody and more mothers are feeling comfortable with this arrangement.

Both mothers and fathers face difficulties when they are single parents. Some difficulties are peculiar to fathers. Some fathers feel discriminated against because people assume that only mothers are competent to raise children. Single fathers also experience special difficulties on their jobs. As a single parent they may find it necessary sometimes to arrive late, leave early, or miss work altogether due to child-related illness or activities.

Taking time off of work can have greater negative connotations for men than for women.

Contrary to assumptions that fathers are incapable of running the household, studies show that fathers do a good deal of the housework themselves when they have custody. Few rely on outside help. As the children get older, and especially if there are daughters, fathers get more help.

One result may be that the children tend to grow up a little faster because of the responsibilities all family members must accept. And while the going may be rough in the beginning, a large majority of fathers (82% in a 1988 study) are satisfied with themselves as parents.

Keeping Wildlife Safe

Here's your chance to visit wildlife from all over the world. Take a virtual walk through these sanctuaries, which are places where they work to keep wild animals safe.

A living museum. Meet the animals at the Western North Carolina Nature Center—from rattlesnakes to turkey vultures. Fact sheets give information on animals who live or have lived at the center, and you can take a virtual tour of the center.
http://wncnaturecenter.org/

Australian animals. Follow Etta the Koala through the Ettamogah Wildlife Sanctuary site. Find out how Etta lives and what other animals live at the sanctuary. You can print and color pictures of the animals that live there, make a jumping kangaroo or write to Etta.
http://ausinternet.com/ettamogah/

Elephant sanctuary. Riddle's Elephant and Wildlife Sanctuary is located in the Ozark Mountain foothills of Arkansas. Meet Toby, Booper, Tonga and the rest of the elephants who live there. You can even find out how to tell an African elephant from an Asian elephant.

What's In Your Basement?

If I asked you to tell me everything in your kitchen, could you do it?

What about the basement?

I couldn't even begin to tell you half of the things in my attic.

You may think I am trying to get you started on fall house cleaning, but my motive is really to make you aware of something far more important than cleaning.

Suppose you returned home tonight to find your house badly charred. Or consider this situation: you return from vacation to find your house has been broken into and robbed. Could you decide what was missing?

Although most homeowners and renters buy homeowners' insurance to protect their possessions, not many take that extra step and complete a household inventory.

"It takes too much time."

"I'll probably never need it."

"I really don't have enough stuff to make it worthwhile."

Do these excuses sound familiar? If you have heard yourself saying these very things, take a minute to rethink the idea of making a household inventory.

A household and personal property inventory can be of great benefit to you no matter how many possessions you have. The inventory gives you a permanent record of the contents of your home and their value. It is useful as a verification of ownership in case of a loss. The inventory is also a quick way to determine what is missing or destroyed in a robbery or fire, especially if you have taken pictures.

By listing the serial numbers of "theft-prone" items such as televisions and VCRs, the items can be identified more easily. For an added benefit, this inventory can be used to determine adequate insurance coverage and to assist in accurate estate planning.

Now, where to begin? The first step and probably the hardest is just deciding that you are going to do this. After you have made up your mind, set aside a specific time or times to get started. You don't have to do everything in one setting. Work on one room at a time.

The inventory can be and should be a family project. Children who enjoy working with numbers can record serial numbers. Have children look through ads and catalogues to help determine replacement values of items. Older children may enjoy taking pictures of special items you want to record. They may especially enjoy being the photo-recorder for their room and possessions.

Many insurance agents provide special forms or booklets to record the information. You can check into computer programs that provide a similar format. Involve the computer savvy teen in your home to help set up a household inventory on your computer.

Let me share some guidelines to get you started.

- Do your inventory room by room.
- Separate personal property in categories: for example, appliances, wooden furniture, and dishes.
- Don't forget the garage and basement.
- Indicate how many of each item you own.
- Record the serial number of each article if it is appropriate. Determine the year you purchased the item. Record how much you paid for the item when it was new.

You may need to estimate on some things, especially less valuable items. Determine a replacement cost.

- Take photographs of rooms as evidence. The best camera angle to capture the room's contents is usually from opposite corners of the room.
- Take close-up pictures of valuable items such as jewelry and antiques.

A video camera is a quick and easy way to make an inventory. If you don't own one, you might want to borrow or rent one to complete your project. Before you begin to videotape, write down the item's cost, year purchased, replacement value, and serial number. Then when you film, you can give this information verbally.

Hopefully, I have given you enough information to get started on your household and personal property inventory. Now it is up to you.

Bakers, Decorators Wanted

DELTA (York Co.) — Bake the best apple or pumpkin pie? Decorate the scariest or funniest pumpkin? Then Mason-Dixon Fair needs you.

The first annual Mason-Dixon Fall Harvest Festival is September 30, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. to help raise funds for the 2001 Fair, there will be an apple pie and pumpkin pie baking contest as well as a pumpkin-decorating contest. The Festival will be located at the Mason-Dixon Fairgrounds on Route 74 and Route 165 on the Mason-Dixon Line in Delta.

All pies should be made from scratch (no canned fillings). Bring the entries to the "Peco Barn" on the fairgrounds by 11 a.m. on Saturday the 30. Judging will take place at 1 p.m. Prizes will be $20 for first place, $10 for second place, and $5 for third place. Pies will be auctioned off after judging is complete. Proceeds will benefit the 2001 Mason-Dixon Fair.

Bring your decorated pumpkins to the "Peco Barn" on the fairgrounds by 11 a.m. on Saturday the 30. Judging will take place at 2 p.m. There will be an adult (ages 13 and older) and child (up to age 12) category with prizes awarded in both categories. First place will receive $12, second place will receive $9, and third place will receive $6. Pumpkin entries should be picked up at 5 p.m.

4-H HAPPENINGS

4-H Fair — Good Weather, Good Fun!

At the Delaware County 4-H Fair Aug. 11 and 12, winners were honored with ribbons for horseback riding, vegetables, poultry, sheep, pigs, demonstrations, showmanship, exhibits, posters, and fun contests for stinky shoes and watermelon seed spitting.

In spite of the intermittent showers of the weekend, attendance was estimated at an all time high of 1,000 for the Friday evening and Saturday event. Educational exhibits on "1% Milk," and home composting as well as topics from the Department of Environmental Protection were included for the first time. All visitors enjoyed crafts and games sponsored by various 4-H clubs.

4-H members in the lamb and hog program are eligible to win in two categories, once for showmanship, which evaluates how well the member prepares and presents the animal to the judge, and once for the animal itself on the expected quality of meat it will produce. The members are divided by seniority and the animals are divided by weight classes. Frank Videon of Newtown Square once again supported 4-H by purchasing the champion hog and lamb at record prices and donating the meat back to 4-H for use at the annual recognition dinner.

The lamb showmanship champions were as follows: Holly Gingrich of Drexel Hill, experienced junior showman (for the second year in a row); David Murphy of Kennett Square, experienced senior showman; Caitlyn Oleykowski of Upper Darby, novice junior showman; and Ryan O'Keefe of Havertown, novice senior showman (for the second year in a row). The champion lambs were #17 (lightweight) owned by David Murphy of Kennett Square and Noah St. Amour of Havertown and #18 (heavyweight) owned by Caitlyn Oleykowski of Upper Darby and Jennifer Williams of Wallingford.

The pig showmanship champions were Neal Bozentka of Newtown Square, experienced junior showman; Emilie Davis of Springfield, experienced senior showman; Therese Salvucci of Broomall, novice junior showman; and Shawna McDermott of Havertown, novice senior showman. The champion pig was #14, owned by Ryan O'Keefe of Havertown, and the reserve champion pig was #9, owned by Laura Ploeg of Newtown Square and Shawna McDermott of Havertown.

Jane Nyiri, a 4-H board member who teaches in the Chester Upland School District, judged educational presentations, exhibits, and posters presented by 4-H members. Ben Reimold of Havertown received champion for educational posters about 4-H projects completed in the last year. Exhibits of completed projects such as woodworking, embryology and internet exploration were judged and Lydia Cannon of Glen Riddle was awarded the champion ribbon. Six different project demonstrations were presented to a live audience on Saturday, with four participants receiving blue ribbons.

4-H members who participate in performing chores for the horses owned by 4-H had the opportunity to compete in grooming and showmanship and a number of competitive games that demonstrated riding skills. The champion was Danielle Breese of Media. The reserve was Emilie Davis of Springfield.

4-H members and nonmembers, including adults, exhibited champion vegetables. 4-H junior experienced champion was again Aaron Murphy of Kennett Square; junior first-year champion was Michael Africa of Ardmore. 4-H senior experienced champion was David Murphy of Kennett Square and senior first-year champion was Jennifer Williams of Wallingford.

Adult open vegetable champion was Bonnie Magliochetti of Media and youth open vegetable champion was Patrick Africa of Ardmore. Michael Africa won the open flower contest.

Poultry winners included champion White Leghorn Neal Bozentka of Newtown Square, and champion Red SexSal, Daniel Zecca of Clifton Heights.

The watermelon seed-spitting contest was won by adult, Keith Bryan of State College (and livestock judge for the fair); and teen, Rob Davis of Springfield.

The Silent Auction allowed visitors to make winning bids and take home items donated by members and businesses. More than $1,200 was raised with this effort.

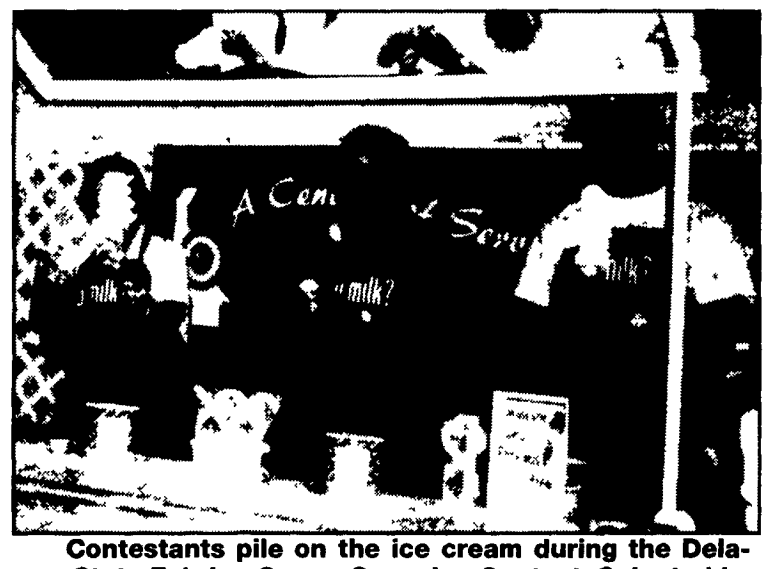
Fairgoers Scoop It Up At Delaware Fair



Contestants pile on the ice cream during the Delaware State Fair Ice Cream Scooping Contest. Selected by random, each constantant had one minute to scoop as many scoops of ice cream on a cone as possible. The audience voted on the winners with the tallest and neatest cones. Prizes included "got milk?" hats, T-shirts, and aprons.

Acre Lake 4-H Club

The Acre Lake 4-H Club met at Lackawanna State Park for a club picnic. Members talked about what kind of flowers they were going to plant at the Harford Fairgrounds. Leader Mrs. Durren talked about making "ugly quilts" for the homeless people.

The next meeting will be at the Harford Fairgrounds for planting flowers and making ugly quilts.

North Jackson Ag 4-H Club

The North Jackson Ag 4-H Club has had a very busy year so far. This season they conducted a bowling party at Valley Lanes as well as many picnics. Reports were given on the dairy judging contest, horse camp, and Camp Brule.

Throughout the past months, demonstrations were given at the meetings by Kyle Miller on cycling, Kendal Miller and Heather Pease on dog grooming and training, Beth Giangrieco on her trip to Stone Mountain, Ga. and Chelsea Saam on fishing lures.

Other demonstrations included Lyle Foster on Lego Robots, Mindy Stanton on ceramics, Mike Pipatone on 4-wheelers, Nick Canzoneri on grave rubbings, Brittany Zebrowksi on her ring-necked dove, Maria Elena Canzoneri on her rabbit and Aaron Onyon on his experience at livestock camp.

At their most recent meeting at Joe and Sandy Pavelski's home, Jessica Salada gave a report on the 4-H Vermont trip. Jonathon Onyon talked about one-day camp. Demonstrations were given by Becky Empet on origami, Laura Van Cott on pressing wildflowers, Amber Gaffey on gymnastics, Amanda Gaffey on cheerleading, Ashley Gaffey on attire for showing a horse Western style, Matt Pavelski on photography, and Dan Frechen, Andy Onyon, and Joe Pipatone on wrestling.

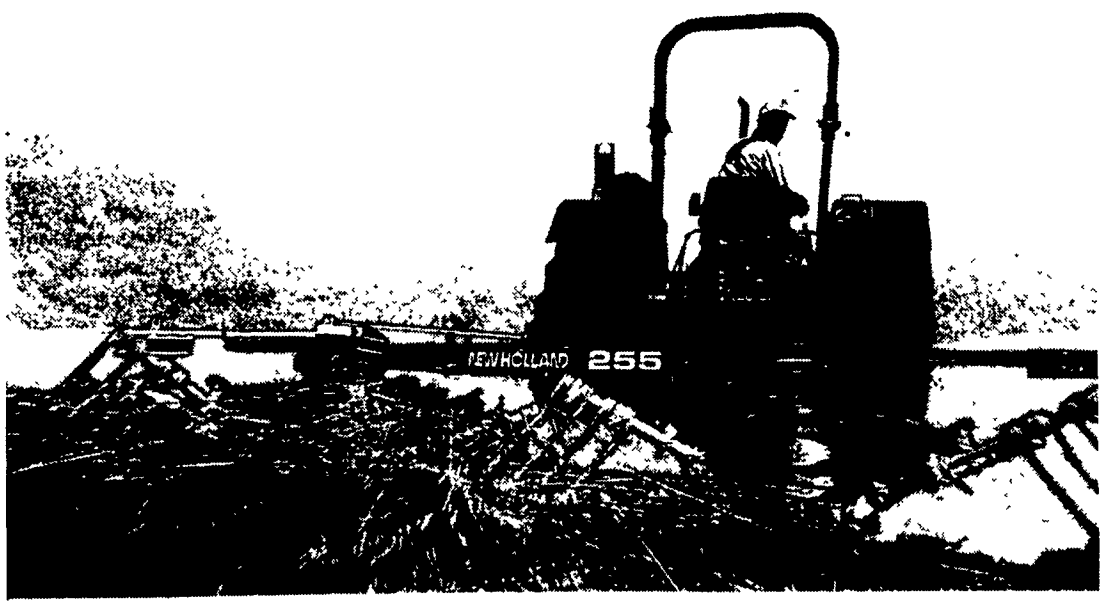
Two jobs, one tool: It's a tedder and a rake

The Model 255 rake tedder is a flexible machine — it's the tedder that also rakes.

- Rake a swath into a windrow
- Rake two windrows into one
- Turn windrows for faster drying
- Move crop away from fences or borders
- Ted a 10½-foot area to fluff up wet, matted-down crop for quick drying

And you can change the "255" from one function to another without tools!

NEW HOLLAND



Big capacity. Uniform chop.

No other forage harvesters give you best-in-class capacity and chop quality. Only the new FP230 and FP240 forage harvesters from New Holland.

- Rugged 1,000-rpm driveline matches higher-horsepower tractors. Use the FP230 with tractors up to 225 PTO hp and the FP240 with tractors up to 300 PTO hp.
- Massive 12-knife cutterhead produces a uniform length of cut from 3/16" to 1-5/16" with four knives.
- Knife sharpening and shearbar adjustment are easy to keep cutting performance at its best.
- Optional on-board Crop-Pro™ crop processor makes feed more digestible and saves the expense and time of using a stationary roller mill.
- Optional Metalert® III electronic metal detector gives you peace of mind.

Choose one of the forage harvesters that deliver what matters—big capacity and uniform chop. See the FP230 or FP240 today.

Put quality silage under wraps

New Holland round bale wrappers are the low-cost alternative to traditional silage storage—they seal your silage bales in "mini silos". You can harvest silage during peak feed quality, store it with greater flexibility, and feed it more efficiently with less waste.

Choose from two models:

- Model B27P is an economic utility wrapper for medium-volume silage producers
- Model B37P is ideal for custom harvesters or operations wrapping large volumes of bales

Both offer a side-mounted lifting arm, three-belt turntable, two large side-support rollers, and cable controls. The B37P is available with computer controls.

Milk Moustache Collector Establishes Related Website

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — Not only do those catchy milk moustache ads get Lori Sheetz drinking more milk but also precipitated her unusual hobby.

The 14-year-old collects the celebrity-moustached ads found in magazines and newspapers. She has accumulated at least 700 ads with 110-115 different variations — and is still counting. A self-described "computer junkie," Lori also created a website about the ads.

"I'm really proud that 13,000 people have visited my site since it was posted on Yahoo," Lori said.

Her site includes 30 pages of information and fun activities connected to the milk moustache ads. Lori's website is www.geocities.com/thatlorigirl/milk.html

Lori said that her unusual hobby began two years ago when she was staying at her grandmother's house during the summer months. While flipping through magazines, she came across the milk ads.

"I thought they were interesting, so I tore them out," Lori said. She remembers the first one she collected was of singer Amy Grant.

When Lori returned to her parents' (Gary's and Ruth's) home, she perused their magazines and was delighted to find more milk moustache ads.

"Some ads use the same picture but have different slogans with it," Lori said. She's sort of a history buff on the evolvement of the ads, which she said, started out with the slogan, "Milk — What a Surprise" then "Milk - Where's Your Mustache" to "got milk?"

She started ripping out the ads and saving them. Soon she discovered variations of the ad in baseball caps, milk cartons, brochures, bumper stickers, book covers, mugs, t-shirts, and other novelty items. She added these to her collection. Knowing of her affinity for the "milk moustache," friends and family members gave her items they discovered along the way.

Lori entered this picture of her mom and her sporting milk moustaches in a recent contest. It's Lori's dream to appear in a milk moustache ad.

It seemed only natural to resort to the internet to find more ads. To her delight, she found many other soulmates who shared her passion for the catchy ads. Swapping ads — known as on-line trading — is now a regular pastime for the high school freshman.

"I don't really have a favorite. I think they're all pretty cool," Lori said of her collection.

She's delighted to have attained several glossy manufactured ads from milk promotions.

Recently Lori placed most of her ads in several different protective binders and arranged the ads alphabetically by the first name of the person appearing on the ad. The ads also have helped her recognize famous people and movie stars by sight. The most ads featuring one person is Mark McGuire. "He's everywhere. I have 20-30 of his ads," Lori said.

Lori knows of at least 20-30 ads that she does not have but would like. "Some of those early ads sell for $6-$7 on E-bay," Lori said. She likes to haunt places with old magazines to search for ads that she's missing.

> "They got me drinking more milk. People always want to do what celebrities are doing. The ads are a cute way to get a message across."
> Lori Sheetz
> 14-year-old collector

"Certain ads appeared only one time. And, some of the ads appear in magazines that few people have ever heard about. Some of these include magazines such as American Cheerleader and Progressive Grocer. Lori has made calls to supermarkets, doctors, and dentists to request issues of trade magazines. She also has a few Spanish versions.

The purpose of the ads, of course, isn't to promote collecting the ads but to encourage people to drink more milk.

According to Lori, the ads do exactly that. She said, "They got me drinking more milk. And, people always want to do what celebrities are doing. The ads are a cute way to get a message across. The promoters always use well respected celebrities in their ads."

Not all ads feature celebrities. Some use ordinary people. Lori's dream come true would be to appear in an ad. She has found a few contests where non-celebrities are selected for the ads, and she faithfully enters the contests.

"I don't understand why people collect rocks and stamps, but collecting these (milk ads) is a constant challenge," Lori said of finding them in unexpected places.

Her latest birthday cake featured the "got milk" logo. And, friends and family often give her milk-related gifts.

Despite a hobby that Lori said grew "sort of out-of-hand," she doesn't focus on only one thing but has lots of other interests. Some of her career possibilities include acting, accounting, archeology, and teaching.

But right now, what she would really like is to appear in a milk moustache ad.

"Someone bid $1,500 just to go to see a milk moustache photo shoot," Lori said of a benefit fundraiser for the Big Brother and Big Sister program.

It's an opportunity Lori would love to have.

Lori has accumulated more than 700 ads and an assortment of milk cartons, book covers, and novelties with the "got milk" message.

Bone Up On Osteoporosis

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — Bone Up On Osteoporosis, part of a series of women's workshops sponsosored by Lebanon Family Health Services, is scheduled for Tues., Oct. 24, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

A $5 donation is requested for the session taught by Dr. David Trostle. He will address risks, detection, protection, and treatment of osteoporosis.

Make It With Wool Registration Deadline Oct.2

JOHNSTOWN (Cambria Co.) — Registrants for The Make It Yourself With Wool Pennsylvania Contest Saturday, Oct. 14, here at the Galleria Mall should meet the registration deadline by Oct. 2. Forms may be obtained from state directors Jodell Antram or Peggy Black.

Antram's telephone number is (814) 443-3189 or e-mail daveandjodell@cs.com or reach Black at (814) 629-6865.

Judging of garments both on and off contestants in five categories will be followed by a fashion show on the Boscov's stage. The categories this year are more open than ever with a Made for Others division, according to Antram.

Made for Others means both the maker and person the garment was made for must attend Make It Yourself With Wool Pennsylvania Competition.

"We are doing it to get more people interested," Antram said of the annual affair that promotes the versatility of wool and adaptability as an all season fiber. "A grandmother may not like to model, but she enjoys making clothes for her grandchildren. We would like to tap into that group."

Winners in the senior and junior divisions of the state Make It Yourself With Wool will be eligible to enter the National Make It With Wool Competition Jan. 25-27, in Sparks, Nev.

Otherwise, preteen is 12 years of age and under, junior is 13-16, senior is 17-24, and adult is 25 and older. Age guidelines are as of Dec. 31, 2000.

Lancaster Farm Women 20

Lancaster Farm Women Society 20 enjoyed a picnic lunch on the lawn of Anna Mary Groff with Freda Wimer as co-hostess.

President Valarie Ferguson opened the business meeting. Anna Mary read Psalm 8 and a reading about how times have changed through the years. To be remembered in prayer are Emily Gallimore, Helen Harnish, and Carl Eckman.

The president reporteda county meeting and project for Arbor Place and the state project to help feed the hungry. Treasurer Vera Herr gave a report.

Members enjoyed the gift game in which everyone received a gift. Some members went swimming and others socialized during the evening.

Berks Society 1

Berks County Society 1 of Farm Women held a doggie roast in the home of Ellen Snyder, who read "A Long Evening." Twenty-five people including spouses attended.

Berks County President Betsy Sattazahn surprised members by presenting a citation from the Pennsylvania House of Representatives for the society's 60th anniversary. The citation was for participation in all Farm Women activities such as Berks Heim, fire companies, 4-H, flood relief, tornado recovery, and other charitable organizations. Members were surprised and very appreciative of the citation. Rep. Dennis Leh presented the citation to Betsy Sattazahn.

The next meeting will be at the home of Ruth Walters. The Farm Women picnic will be at Levengood Grove.

The August meeting was held at the home of Ruth Walters. The program for the evening was presented by Tywonn Hetrick, who visited Tahiti as a missionary from a church in Florida. They distributed food and clothing and held church services.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Betty Wegman.

Berks Society 6

Berks Society 6 of Farm Women met at the home of Linda Youse. Seven women attended the covered dish supper. The dairy month theme included a program by the alternate dairy princess who presented interesting facts on the industry.

Volunteers were asked to help at the Heim Fest, Sept. 9. Donations of paper products, canned goods, and non-perishables are requested for the program Feed the Hungry in the Millennium.

The next meeting will be at the home of Pearl Hoffman at 7:45 p.m. Guest speaker is Faye Strickler.

Lancaster Society 18

Lancaster Farm Women Society 18 met Aug. 19 at the home of Ruth Rohrer, East Petersburg.

After a delicious dessert, Dorothy Brubaker led devotions. Roll call was answered by 18 members with only one member missing. Each member expressed a desired change either personal, national, political, local, etc.

President Ruth Landis presided at the business meeting and the program was chosen with the needs of senior cititzens in mind. Elizabeth Hollenbach from the campus gave an illustrated talk to help the needs of many unable to function without constant help. She gave many tips on making daily activities safer. Some people need only little changes to home interiors and others require quite a bit of change. Each member received a catalog with countless items to help perform a day in the life of an individual dependent needing constant aid.

After seeing Ruth Rohrer receive her heart pin showing her addition to the growing number of reaching 80 years, members sang the theme song, "Brighten the Corner." Members enjoyed Ruth's artistic display of momentos.

"You Ask—You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and Answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask—You Answer, Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. Attention: Lou Ann Good.

Or, you may e-mail questions and answers to lgood.eph@lnpnews.com

Please clarify what question you are answering when responding.

Do not send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a reply. If we receive the answer, we will publish it as soon as possible. Please include your phone number because we sometimes need to contact the person to clarify details. We will not publish your phone number unless you request it.

QUESTION — Anna Bryan, Oxford, N.J., wants to know where to buy an insert for a ceramic teapot to put tea into it. She recalls seeing a ceramic insert but doesn't know if you can buy it separately or if it comes with an entire teapot set. Anna has her mom's and grandma's teapots, that are sort of round and not too big.

QUESTION — Roberta Goldsbough, York, is looking for an old type of mountain pie maker used in camping. The type wanted is round and the pies look tier shaped when cooked, not the smooth round ones. Call her at (717) 755-8865.

ANSWER — For the reader who wanted to know of a Fuller Brush dealer near Lancaster City and for Stanley Home Products, contact Miriam Ruhl, 1143 Greentree Ext., Mount Joy, PA 17552 or call (717) 653-4416.

ANSWER — For the reader who wanted information on using goat milk to make soap and cheese, Michelle Good, Beavertown, recommends "Caprine Cooking" and "Goats Produce Too," by Mary Jane Toth, 2833 N. Lewis Rd., Coleman, MI 48618. Phone (517) 465-1982.

On soap making without animal fats, Michelle recommends "The Natural Soap Book," by Susan Miller Cavitch. Michelle uses the recipe for shampoo bars and her whole family loves them. Soap supplies are available from Rainbow Meadows 1-800-207-4047.

Here is a soap recipe Michelle uses.

Basic Goat Milk Soap

6 pounds lard
12-ounce can lye (Red Devil brand-be careful the new plastic containers contain more than 12 ounces)
2 cups goat milk (not cold)
3 cups cool water

Place the milk and water into a large stainless steel or enamel container (I do this outside) slowly stir in the lye, don't breathe the fumes.

(I stir with a large rubber spatula, the lye will eat wooden spoons). The mixture gets very hot. Cool to 75 degrees. Warm the lard to 85 degrees. Very slowly pour warmed lard into lye mixture. Stir mixture until it reaches the consistency of honey or "traces," about 30 minutes. Add essential oils last.

Pour into molds greased with Vaseline. (I like to use plastic shoeboxes).

Carefully wrap soap in newspaper and several blankets to insulate. This helps the soap set up and cool slowly. When hard (24 hours) the soap should come out easily and cut in nice pieces with a knife. Age three weeks before using.

BEEF. IT'S WHAT'S FOR DINNER.

Cambria Conducts Market Lamb Show

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

BENSBURG (Cambria Co.) — Scott Strittmatter's 122-pound Suffolk crossbred lamb took grand champion honors at the Cambria County Fair Market Lamb Show.

The 15-year-old Strittmatter from Ebensburg, who has four sisters and lives on a sizable dairy farm, said the victory is his third consecutive grand champion.

Although the family has a 180-head Holstein dairy herd, young Strittmatter prefers doing something different, and that's why raising a lamb project in the Wilderness Hollow 4-H Club is fun. His parents are Bernie and Tess Strittmatter and he is a sophomore at Cambria Heights High School.

Jamie Johns, 17, Johnstown who was showing lambs for the first time, had the reserve champion with a Suffolk/Hampshire. "I was extremely surprised," said the Ragers Hill 4-H'er. Previously she showed only horses and rabbits. She is a senior at the Richland High School.

Her parents are Butch and Carol Johns and Teri, 15, is her only sister.

The show judge was Dick Kuzemchak, head shepherd at Penn State.

Following are top three class placings:

Loy Farms Raise $10,000 For Cancer Research

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

PINE GROVE (Schuylkill Co.) — "Happy thoughts produce happy molecules," said Bob Loy.

He's had his share of happy thoughts lately, which he believes will help in his offensive fight against bladder and prostrate cancer.

"I don't even think of having cancer. Every day is a holiday to do something for someone else."

Bob and his brother Dennis recently did a really big thing when they organized a fundraiser to benefit cancer research at John Hopkins Hospital. More than $10,000 was raised.

"We just wanted to give back," Bob said of their reason. The family has had more than their share of cancer. Their mother, a sister, and Dennis's first wife died of cancer. Dennis' son Keith, who farms in partnership with him, has watched his wife successfully undergo a bone marrow transplant five years ago. In addition several other friends and relatives are fighting cancer.

Bob Loy was so impressed with the treatment that he received at John Hopkins that he wants to do his part in helping researchers find a cure for cancer.

"You need entertainment to get people to give money," Loy said. About 85 businesses and individuals help sponsor the event that featured Stanley and the Coal Miners Polka Band and a sit-down pig roast dinner. Through word-of-mouth advertising, 280 people attended the event on Aug.18.

The Loy family was delighted with the turnout and the financial response.

"So many people helped," Bob said of the event held at the nearby Flying Dutchmen Motorcycle Club and catered by Red Lion Cafe.

Lots of photographs of the event recall delightful memories of such incidents as a 91-year-old man doing the polka.

Two weeks after the fundraiser, Bob had another big event to prepare. His and his wife Anna Faye's daughter Bobbi Ann got married on the home farm.

"When I was in the hospital and not looking too good, Bobbi Ann said she wanted to get married on the farm. I think she did it more for me than her," he said. "She gave me a long list of things to do."

If so, her scheme worked. The idea of a wedding looming ahead pushed Bob to get out of the hospital and get busy. He purchased $40 worth of flower seeds to plant on the farm. All the bridal bouquets and other flowers used for the wedding were raised on the farm.

Even the family dog, a Golden Retriever named Cooper, were involved in the wedding.

"That dog is super human," Bob brags. "He's one smart dog."

It seemed natural to have the dog to walk down the aisle behind the bride. With the red barns and two white tents, the farm wedding turned out to be a happy event.

With the two big events in the past, the brothers are planning another good deed. In conjunction with Make a Difference Day on Oct. 28, the brothers plan to take decorate the Bethany Children's Home, Wolmesdorf, with pumpkins. Make a Difference Day is a national day to help others. In recognition of the day, more than $2.8 million in grants and awards are given out by Walmart, Points of Light Foundation, and Newmans. The Loys filled out a 5-page application for a Walmart Grant to be awarded to Bethany Children's Home, which they say was accepted.

Of the work involved in planning the cancer fundraiser, Dennis said, "Work isn't near as hard after it's over and it's been a big success."

"It's a chance to give back," the Loys said of their reason for planning a community event to raise $10,000 for cancer research. From left are Brothers Bob and Dennis with his son Keith.

Bob said of his brother Dennis, "He's very generous and helps a lot of people, but he doesn't want others to know about it."

Dennis and his son Keith farm 200 acres on a farm Dennis purchased in 1959. Called Loy's Piglet Outlet, the Loys have 250-275 sows and raise about 11,000 piglets. They strive to keep the animals in the best health to enable them to sell breeding stock.

The Loys are proud to be independent farmers and have no contracts.

"We learned the hard way. We took a beating many years ago when we had a contract. We found out a contract is only as good as the people who make it. If the price drops, they break it," Dennis said.

They are concerned that the family farm will not survive because so many people are unaware of the part farmers play in the economy of a nation.

"People say they don't care if there aren't any farmers because they'll just buy food in the store," Dennis said. "We (farmers) made this country what it is. What do we have to export except farm products?"

But the Loys don't waste time worry about the future.

"Every day I'm alive, I want to do something for someone else," Bob Loy said after two bouts with cancer.

"We just do whatever needs to be done," Dennis said.

Bob continues to look forward to new adventures. He said, "Yesterday is history. Tomorrow is a mystery. Today's a gift."

Bob prefers to use that gift by daily visiting others who are ill.

An incentive for Bob Loy to get well was his daughter's wedding held on the family farm in August. In the spring, Loy planted $40 worth of flower seeds in preparation for the wedding. The flowers were used for bridal bouquets and table arrangements in addition to beautifying the area surrounding the red barns and the white tents erected for the wedding. From left, are Jeremy Lengel holding with the family's "almost human" Golden Retriever named Cooper, Bob, Anna Faye, Bobbi Ann, and Jonathan Luster./l

TWIN BILL TRAIN AUCTION

SAT., SEPT. 30, 2000 • 10 AM

Hundreds of Trains in Both Rooms!

RIDGE FIRE COMPANY

Along Rt. 23, BEtween Phoenixville, PA, & Rt. 100
EXHIBITION: 7 P.M. to 9 P.M. Friday & From 8 A.M. to 10 A.M. Saturday

We don't know what kind of trains you prefer, but we'll bet you'll find something to buy at this auction! Naturally, we have all kinds of Lionel - even some nice Prewar and Standard Gauge. Write in some Ives, plus Prewar American Flyer "O" Gauge. Solid selection of Flyer "S" Gauge in the Blue Room. Extra special offering of "O" Scale, comprising the collection of Frank C. Thomson. We have about 100 lots of this exotic equipment, which is replete with exacting details. HO, the most popular gauge in America, is well represented; we see 300 to 400 lots. Now throw in railroadiana for those who look for real railroad collectibles, and you'll have an idea about what's selling at the Ridge on the 30th.

BUSINESS ❖ NEWS

New STX Steiger Gets High Marks From Dealer

INTERCOURSE (Lancaster Co.) — Several representatives from a Lancaster County-based equipment dealer were recently invited to Fargo, N.D. to tour the production plant for the new Case IH STX Series Steiger tractors.

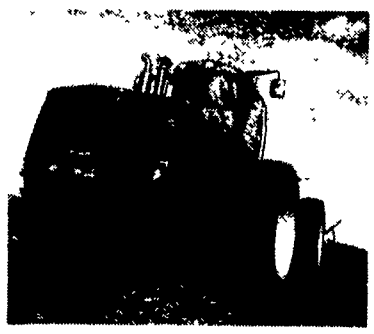
Among those who made the trip from Hoober, Inc. was dealership president Charlie Hoober, who liked what he saw from not only the new tractors, but the design process as well.

"One of the aspects that impressed me and gave me a good feeling about these tractors was the fact that they were designed with input from more than 2,200 farmers," said Hoober. "Plus the engineers who took that input and designed the STX line each have over 20 years of experience working on Steiger tractors. That kind of stability is important."

According to literature from Case, the new Case IH STX Series Steiger tractors feature advancements in steering, diagnostics, comfort, and serviceability. This in addition to offering the industry's highest horsepower rating, according to Case.

"From our standpoint, a new product's value is based on how well we feel it is going to work for our customers," said Hoober, who noted the new STX Steiger display was a popular stop at the recent Ag Progress Days in Rocksprings. "And these are tractors we believe will help farmers be more productive."

One of the key features that is likely to make an impact with farmers is the AccuSteer precision steering system that allows the STX Series Steiger tractors to be effective in row-crop work.



According to literature from Case, the new Case IH STX Series Steiger tractors feature advancements in steering, diagnostics, comfort, and serviceability.

"Farmers will like the fact that they will be able to have a turning radius of slightly more than 12-feet on a tractor with this much power," said Hoober. "Being able to put these tractors to work in row-crop applications is a big plus."

According to Hoober, whose three dealerships (Intercourse, Pa; McAlisterville, Pa; and Middletown, Del.) will have the new STX Series Steiger tractors on the lot sometime in October. The tractors have definitely been built with the consumer in mind.

"These tractors are designed to help farmers maximize their productivity," said Hoober. "We're already getting a lot of interest from our customers, and I don't think they're going to be disappointed."

Deere Chooses Goodyear's UltraTorque As An Option On Select Tractors

AKRON, Ohio — John Deere is offering Goodyear's UltraTorque rear radial farm tire as an original equipment option on its tractors.

John Deere recently selected the UltraTorque as a factory-installed option for its large 7610,7710, 7810, 8000 Ten and 9000 series tractors.

The move came several months after Case also selected the UltraTorque as an original equipment option. With OE fitments from two of the world's largest farm equipment manufacturers, the UltraTorque is poised to become the dominant player in the agricultural market.

"These two agreements demonstrate the growing consensus of the UltraTorque's superior performance. John Deere and Case are known for thoroughly testing components of their products," said Mark Pillow, marketing director for farm tires.

Goodyear's UltraTorque line of radial farm tires are designed for everyday farming and will see farmers through their fields' intermittent wet spots, eliminating the need to switch to a deep-lugged tire.

"Original equipment fitments, particularly when you're dealing with trusted names like Deere and Case, help reinforce the reputation of our products in the replacement tire market," Pillow continued. "We're very excited about the UltraTorque's future marketability."

Goodyear designed the UltraTorque for a wide range of farming applications with both, ride comfort and mud traction in mind. The goal was to provide farmers with a tire that will see them through fields with intermittent wet spots without requiring them to change to a deeper-lugged tire.

The Ultratorque also used metric sizing, which allows for increased load carrying capacity and a longer footprint than standard size tires.

Among the UltraTorque's key features is its offset lugs. Since they do not cross the centerline, the lugs create an open channel through which the mud can flow easily. During testing, the UltraTorque outperformed its competitors by a wide margin in both mud traction and overall durability.

University Data Confirms New Mixes Give More Nutrients Per Bite

TANGENT, Ore. — Data from multiple universities and independent trial sites continues to confirm that Ampac Seed Company's Pasture Perfect® Improved Forage Mixtures provide not only higher feed value, but also improved yields.

A recent lab analysis on four experimental Pasture Perfect Mixture formulations linked with yield data from multiple university sites has established the fact that the right formula will provide farmers with both tonnage and feed value.

"When we started the Pasture Perfect Program, we focused on developing mixtures that would give more nutrients per bite. We were pretty sure that the components had better feed value than some of the traditional grasses, as well as some of the newer varieties," said Jonathan Rupert, national sales and marketing manager for Ampac Seed Company. "But what we are now seeing is, that if we formulate the right percentage of these components for each region and each application, we can not only provide better feed value, but can also give farmers excellent forage yields. It isn't always necessary to sacrifice tonnage for feed value. With our ongoing research and independent testing, we expect to far surpass what is currently available on the market. We will continue to add new varieties to our program, as well as evaluate different mixture formulations. It is an ongoing process."

The 1998 Wisconsin planting had two experimental mixtures, Ampac PP1 and Ampac PP2. Current year data indicates both mixes yielding at least 119 percent of the trial mean, surpassing other entries. Similar results were reported last year at the University of Kentucky — Lexington, where Ampac's PP1 and PP2 mixes were first and second in the grazing trial, out-yielding the trial average by more than 129 percent. Similar results have been reported at a number of other independent research facilities throughout the nation.

USDA Proposes Changes In Standards For Various Dry Milk Products

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The USDA is inviting the public to comment on its proposal to change the United States Standards for Grades of Nonfat Dry Milk (Spray Process), the United States Standards for Instant Nonfat Dry Milk, and the United States Standards for Grades of Dry Buttermilk and Dry Buttermilk Product. The standards for these products have been in effect since May 22, 1996, Aug. 7, 1996, and Aug. 23, 1991, respectively.

The USDA proposal is in response to a request by the American Dairy Products Institute, a trade association representing the dry milk industry.

The proposed changes would:

- Reduce the Standard Plate Count (bacterial estimates) for U.S. Extra Grade nonfat dry milk (spray process) from a maximum of 40,000 per gram to a maximum of 10,000 per gram.
- Reduce the Standard Plate Count (bacterial estimates) for instant nonfat drymilk from a maximum of 30,000 per gram to a maximum of 10,000 per gram.
- Reduce the Standard Plate Count (bacterial estimates) for U.S. Extra Grade dry buttermilk and dry buttermilk product from a maximum of 50,000 per gram to a maximum of 20,000 per gram.
- Reduce the Standard Plate Count (bacterial estimates) for U.S. Standard Grade dry buttermilk and dry buttermilk product from a maximum of 200,000 per gram to 75,000 per gram.

USDA grade standards are voluntary standards developed to facilitate the marketing process. Manufacturers of dairy products are free to choose whether or not to use these grade standards.

The proposed changes will be published in the Sept. 8 Federal Register. Comments must be postmarked by Nov. 7.

Written comments must be sent to Duane R. Spomer; Chief, Dairy Standardization Branch, Dairy Programs, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 2746-SB, P.O. Box 96456, Washington, D.C. 20090-6456; faxed to (202) 720-2643; or e-mailed to Duane.Spomer@usda.gov.

Massey Ferguson Introduces High-Performance Tractor

ATLANTA, Ga. — "There's a demand today among farmers, landscape contractors, institutions, and homeowners with large acreage for a compact, high performance tractor that is affordable within today's tight budgets," said Steve Barcuch, Massey Ferguson® general marketing manager. "The new 28 horsepower MF 1233 compact tractor meets these requirements."

The MF 1233 tractor is available in two and four-wheel drive models with the following outstanding high performance features as standard equipment:

- Naturally aspirated three-cylinder, 28 hp diesel engine with indirect fuel injection that meets all current environmental standards. Excellent torque backup keeps the tractor pulling in tough field conditions, and glow plugs preheat air in combustion chambers for quick starts in cold weather.
- An easy shift, smooth, sliding-gear transmission with nine forward and three reverse gears lets you match the engine torque and ground speed to the job. For frequent shuttle applications, moving the shift lever straight back from forward to reverse makes direction changes quick and easy.
- A live 540 rpm rear-mount PTO, and optional live 2000 rpm mid-mount PTO provide maximum implement performance. The live PTO lets the operator keep the PTO running when the tractor is stopped — useful in mowing applications.
- The Category I three-point hitch has a lift capacity of 1,210 pounds at the link ends and features both response and position control for handling a wide variety of implements. An optional draft control automatically regulates the working depth of ground engaging implements.
- Four-wheel drive models feature a tough cast iron front axle for added strength and greater load-carrying capacity. All components are fully encased in a sealed, oil-filled housing. A bevel gear design provides a 55-degree steering angle for a tighter turning radius.
- Multidisc, oil-cooled brakes provide reliable braking under any type of load.
- A steel hard nose gives superior protection compared to plastic moldings found on other tractors.
- The comfortable operator platform is wide open with plenty of foot and leg room. Rubber mounts cushion the entire platform and isolate vibration and bumps. For maximum operator comfort and convenience, all transmission and hydraulic controls are mounted next to the seat on the operator's right, leaving the platform clear and open.

A wide range of attachments and implements include a 60-inch mid-mount finish mower, rotary cutter, rotary tiller, box scraper, front and rear dozer blades, landscape rake, disc harrow, field cultivator, row-crop cultivator and moldboard plow, plus a Quick-Attach backhoe and front-end loader.

You're Invited To Be Part Of The Mid Atlantic Area's

2001 AG DIRECTORY

This exclusive publication will serve as the ultimate resource guide for county agents and state agricultural agencies, and also serve as a "Yellow Pages" for farmers all across the Mid Atlantic.

The 2001 Ag Directory, will be included in Lancaster Farming's total circulation, and be distributed at the Pennsylvania and Keystone Farm Shows. That's more than 55,000 booklets in circulation! This Directory is the only one of its type to be distributed in this area.

Be a part of it.

RHINO

SE8 In Stock

The Rhino® SE8 is an economical rotary mower designed to help maintain larger acreages of grass, weeds, stalks, or material up to 1" in diameter.

The streamlined, close-coupled design allows economical operation on tractors as small as 30 horsepower on the SE8 and 45 horsepower on the SE10. The 85 HP center gearbox and 60 HP outboard gearboxes are protected from sudden shockloads by a slip clutch on the main driveline and torque dampeners on the side driveshafts. Pan blade carriers help the unit glide over field obstacles and updraft blades with a 4" blade overlap provide a clean cut

Twin-Line® Planters
...from the field to the road in seconds

KINZE's Exclusive Rotating In-Line Transport: the only system that offers you narrow transport on large planters equipped with narrow row Interplant® or fertilizer options As narrow as most tractor duals

The unique, patented hydraulic "lift & rotate" system features a rugged, heavy-duty stainless steel clad center post (on both 3500 and 3600 models) which rotates on large tapered bearings seated at the base of the post. (Model 3400 uses a parallel linkage system with dual lift cylinders)

- UHMW plastic pads glide up and down against the smoothly machined surface. Absolutely no lubrication is required. (3500 and 3600)
- A self-contained counter-balance valve in the lift cylinder provides additional safety when the planter is in the raised position. The planter will not lower without hydraulic pressure from the tractor. (3400 and 3500)
- A Spring-loaded latch/hook secures the planter while it's in the fully raised position by locking the toolbar in place. (3600)

Add up the Super Boom™ advantages

No skid steer compares to a New Holland Super Boom™. Add up the advantages:

- Superior visibility: no rear frame towers in your way.
- Unbeatable stability: longer wheelbase and lower center of gravity make Super Boom a productive, comfortable, safe machine
- Faster speeds: the fastest ground speeds in the industry for quicker cycle times
- Unequaled dump height & reach: vertical boom lift path makes it the best.
- Pound for pound, better lift capacity: Super Boom gives you more lift capacity per pound of total machine weight.
- The most attachments: More than 60 attachments available with more coming all the time Super Boom™ also works with most competitive attachments.

Stop by today and see for yourself why no skid steer can compare. LS160 in stock, now-ready to test drive.

Performance and capacity

The "570" New Holland square baler brings together performance, reliability and capacity.

- Rotary feeding system adds consistency and bale quality.
- Fast plunger stroke – 93 SPM. A Cat. 6 drive-line and increased slip clutch setting add capacity.
- Wide Super-Sweep™ pickup. 65" wide to get those big scattered windrows.
- Strong materials in bale case and plunger.
- Gear-driven tying mechanisms – wire or twine.

Ask for a demonstration of the New Holland "570" baler... the best-in-class square baler.

Match A Spreader To Your Needs

W Yourself Too Thin

Get Unmatched Flexibility At A Great Price.

With eight sizes to choose from and a wide variety of options, it's easy to see how the New Idea® 3700 Series Spreaders meet the needs of any operation Their aggressive, main beater paddles are strategically spaced and angled to shred a wide range of material while giving you a consistent spread pattern

Culvert-grade galvanizing over one-piece, copper-bearing steel sides provide a barrier against rust and corrosion And for hauling long distances, the truck-mount option proves to be the safest, most economical way to transport large amounts of material.

To see how simple it is to customize your spreading operation, contact your AGCO® New Idea dealer today You'll be surprised how much time and money you'll save with the New Idea 3700 Series Spreaders

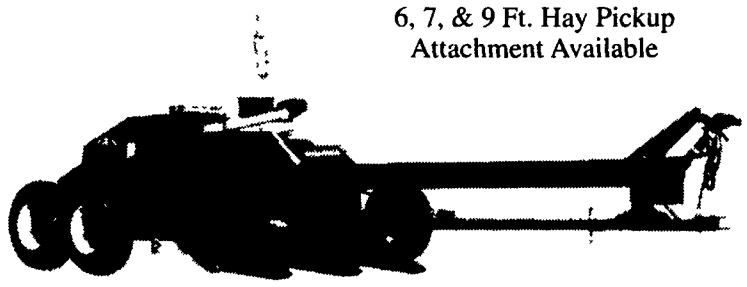
GEHL

YOUR LIVESTOCK IMPLEMENT LINE

BETTER NUTRITION & PEAK FORAGE HARVESTING CAPACITY!

6, 7, & 9 Ft. Hay Pickup Attachment Available



Increase Production & Profits with a Gehl Crop Processor™ Better feed starts with better harvesting. That's what you get with a Gehl crop processing forage harvester. First to put crop-processing rolls in a pull-type forage harvester, Gehl remains the leader with the original Model 1275 and the all-new Model 1075.

- HIGH-SPEED GROOVED ROLLS crack kernels, break-up the cob and shred stalk material
- BENEFITS include increased milk production and improved herd health
- MODEL 1275 is today's top-capacity pull-type forage harvester, handling up to 300 PTO horsepower.
- NEW MODEL 1075 handles up to 225 PTO horsepower
- EXCLUSIVE AUTOMAX™ LOAD MANAGEMENTS SYSTEM helps boost capacity.

The #1 Name In Feedmaking

Gehl Mix-All® portable grinder-mixers have been leading the industry for over 35 years. Now available with Gehl's famous hammermill or a commercial-grade roller mill to produce the best possible feed for your livestock.

- Total hydraulic control - Self-contained hydraulic system allows infinite speeds to power the discharge conveyor, unloading auger and in-feed attachments
- Remote controls - Operate the unloading conveyor from the tractor seat or from the rear of the machine.
- Electronic scales - For precise ration weighing.
- Customize your machine - With a wide variety of options and attachments.

You're Invited To Be Part Of The Mid Atlantic Area's
2001 AG DIRECTORY
This exclusive publication will serve as the ultimate resource guide for county agents and state agricultural agencies, and also serve as a "Yellow Pages" for farmers all across the Mid Atlantic.
The 2001 Ag Directory, will be included in Lancaster Farming's total circulation, and be distributed at the Pennsylvania and Keystone Farm Shows. That's more than 55,000 booklets in circulation! This Directory is the only one of its type to be distributed in this area.
Be a part of it.

Futurist, Hall Of Famer

PARK RIDGE, Ill. — A renowned futurist and a Hall of Fame football player will join Farm Bureau members in Orlando, Fla., Jan. 7-10, 2001 for the American Farm Bureau Federation's 82nd annual meeting.

The meeting will be conducted at Orlando's Orange County Convention Center and the Rosen Centre Hotel, adjacent to the convention center.

Daniel Burrus, one of the world's leading technology forecasters, will join AFBF President Bob Stallman as a featured speaker at Monday morning's general session. Mike Singletary, former Chicago Bears linebacker and member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, will headline Sunday evening's awards ceremonies.

Burrus is the founder and CEO of Burrus Research Associates, Inc., a research and consulting firm that specializes in global innovations in science and technology, and their creative application and future impact.

Called one of America's "top three business gurus" by the New York Times, Burrus has helped hundreds of clients develop successful competitive strategies based on the creative application of leading-edge technologies.

Singletary was one of football's fiercest and most feared inside linebackers during his 12-year career with the Chicago Bears. He has channeled his energy from the football field into becoming one of the nation's most inspirational speakers.

Burrus and Singletary are the latest additions to the "leaner, meaner" 2001 AFBF annual meeting. The 2001 version will be a day shorter than previous meetings, but will contain many of the popular events of years past, including the FB Showcase, Ice Cream Fund Raiser, Young Farmer and Rancher activities, and women's conference.

Chester County 4-H Dairy Roundup

HONEY BROOK (Chester Co.) — The Chester County 4-H Dairy Roundup was held at the Romano 4-H Center. Forty-two members, including seven first year 4-Hers, showed 129 animals.

Ray Seidel from Kutztown judged type for the Holstein and Guernsey shows. The Holstein show was the largest breed shown at Roundup, with 63 animals exhibited. Christy Guest from Pottstown captured a grand champion award when her 4-year-old, Century-Oak Tesk Joanie, was named senior and grand champion of the Holstein show. Ben Brown of Glenmoore was named reserve senior and reserve grand champion with his senior 3-year-old, Windy-Fox Prince Dan Dallas. The judge chose a fine senior calf, Century-Oak Encore Jessi, exhibited by Christy Guest of Pottstown, for the Junior Champion of the Holstein show. Emily Neilson of Chatham was selected as reserve junior champion with her intermediate calf entry, Walmoore Zebo 4067.

Charles Seidel from Lenhartsville judged type for Ayrshires, Brown Swiss, Jerseys, and Linebacks. Senior and grand champion Ayrshire honors went to Rebecca Nolan of Cochranville with her 5-year-old, Dreamnol Trident Freckles. Hannah Wentworth of Quarryville captured reserve senior and reserve grand champion Ayrshire awards with her Jr. 3-year-old, Wentworth Farm Nampa Skye. Hannah was also awarded junior champion with her intermediate yearling, Wentworth Farm Rigil Velvet. Hannah's brother, Ethan, was awarded reserve junior champion with his winter yearling, Wentworth Farms Retake Lydia.

Erica Lloyd of Pottstown, had a sweep of all the championship ribbons in the Brown Swiss show. Senior and grand champion Brown Swiss awards went to her 5-year-old, Brownswitch Concord Rona. Her 4-year-old entry, Brownswitch Con C Krystal was the reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

Erica's intermediate calf, EL's Brook Ronas Snow, was picked as junior champion Brown Swiss and her intermediate yearling, EL's Brook Kaitlyn was chosen as reserve junior champion.

Meredith Baily also took top honors in the Jersey breed when her 5-year-old, Top-O-Hill Imperial Pansey was named senior and grand champion. Patrick Jenkins of Toughkenamon captured the reserve senior and reserve grand champion Jersey award with his junior 3-year-old, WRF Jake Sunflower.

Meredith Baily was also named junior champion with Pocopson Meadow Junction Pilar, a senior calf Jersey. The reserve junior champion award went to Colin Sollenberger of Spring City with his junior calf, French Creek Topkick Twinkle.

The showing and fitting contest, always a closely contested event, was judged by Charles Houp of Honey Brook and Christine Williams of Lebanon. In the first year junior division (ages 8-13), champion showmanship honors went to Emily Neilson of Chatham.

Kaitlyn Kulp of Pottstown was the reserve champion first year showman. For the first year fitting honors, the judges chose Robert Hershey of Cochranville for champion and Emily Neilson for reserve champion. In the first year senior division (ages 14-18), Tiffany Kissell received both champion fitting and showmanship awards.

In the junior division, 8-11 years of age, Chris Steindel of Kennett Square won both champion fitting and champion showmanship honors. Reserve champion fitting went to Brad Guest of Pottstown, and reserve champion showmanship went to Hannah Wentworth of Quarryville.

The intermediate division, ages 12-14 years, was by far the largest class of the day. Eliza Walton of Kennett Square was named champion showman while Patrick Jenkins of Toughkenamon took the reserve ribbon.

Patrick was awarded champion honors in the fitting competition, with Christy Guest of Pottstown taking reserve.

The senior division, ages 15-18, saw Meredith Baily of West Chester win both championship fitting and showmanship awards. Erica Lloyd of Pottstown took reserve champion showman, and Elizabeth Brown of Glenmoore earned reserve champion fitting.

The show also included a pre-4-H showing event for youngsters under 8-years-old.

DEP, Penn State Extension Team Up

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) Secretary James M. Seif announced that DEP and Penn State Cooperative Extension are teaming up to offer composting workshops and free backyard composting bins to Franklin County residents.

"It is vital for all Pennsylvanians to recycle more of the waste we produce so the commonwealth can meet its goal of recycling 35 percent of all waste generated," Seif said.

Penn State Cooperative Extension of Franklin County is conducting three workshops on backyard composting this fall. "We must continue to find more efficient and economical ways to recycle our resources if we are to become a truly sustainable society," said Bob Steele, dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Penn State University. "We are committed to helping Pennsylvania's citizens meet these through our research and extension programs."

Each person who preregisters for a workshop and attends will receive a free composting bin, as long as supplies last, and with the limitation that only one bin will be given per household.

The workshops are scheduled as follows:

- Wednesday, Nov. 1, 2000, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.;
- Wednesday, Nov. 1, 2000, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.;
- Saturday, Nov. 4, 2000, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

All three workshops will be conducted at the Penn State Cooperative Extension Office, located at 191 Franklin Farm Lane in Chambersburg. To receive a bin, you must preregister by calling your Penn State Cooperative Extension Office at (717) 263-9226. The workshops are being sponsored by DEP, the Franklin County Recycling Program, and Penn State Cooperative Extension.

"I strongly encourage everyone to attend one of these workshops to learn about composting," Seif said. "Biodegradable waste, such as banana peels, grass clippings, leaves, and even coffee grounds, will beak down into compost. You can spread compost over gardens, lawns, and flowerbeds to add nutrients to the soil. This is literally recycling in its purest form."

Chester County's 4-H Dairy Goat Roundup Features Quality

HONEY BROOK (Chester Co.) — The Chester County 4-H Dairy Goat Roundup was Aug. 7 here at the Romano 4-H Center. Thirteen goat projects were exhibited and six 4-H youth participated.

This year the show was divided into two breed classes — Alpines and Nubians.

Heather Glennon of Doylestown not only placed the animals, but also instructing the 4-H'ers in how to improve their animals through breeding.

In the Alpine breed, Erin Whitesel of Landenberg captured senior and grand champion with her doe, Muffin, in the does one and under two years of age class. Joe Batchelder of Glenn Mills received the reserve senior and reserve grand champion title in the Alpine breed with Jellyrole, a doe in the three-five years of age division.

Nectar, who showed in the 4- to 12-month-old kid class, was the junior champion for Daniel Smith of Lincoln University. Erin Whitesel won reserve junior ribbon with Nibble, who also showed in the 4- to 12-month-old class.

In the Nubian breed, Glennon selected a 3- to 5-year-old doe named Midnight, owned by Veronica Bates of Gradyville, for senior and grand champion.

Reserve senior and reserve grand champion went to Madeline, who showed in the 3- to 5-year-old group, owned by Nora Demchur of West Chester. Eloise, a kid in the 12 to 24 month of age class, also owned by Nora Demchur, was awarded junior champion. Reserve junior champion went to Veronica Bates with Pop Tart, a kid in the 12- to 24-month-old class.

The highlight of the roundup was when the judge selected Erin Whitesel's outstanding grand champion Alpine doe, Muffin, for best in show honors. Veronica Bates received the reserve award with her Nubian doe, Midnight.

In the fitting and showing competition, Erin Whitesel was the junior champion showman and fitter for members less than 14-years-old. In the senior competition, Veronica Bates received both champion showman and champion fitter. In the first-year division, Daniel Smith earned both champion showman and champion fitter awards. In the pre-4-H or Cloverbud competition, Selena Bari of Downingtown won the champion fitter and champion showmanship prize.

America's Top Equestrians Return For National Horse Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Pennsylvania National Horse Show (PNHS), one of Pennsylvania's premier sporting events and America's largest indoor all-breed horse show, will conduct its 55th annual 10-day competition here Oct. 12-21.

Since its inception in 1945, the event at Harrisburg's State Farm Show Arena, has raised more than $1.4 million for youth literacy, educational, and recreational programs through the Harrisburg Kiwanis Youth Foundation.

Each year, hundreds of thousands of hunter, jumper, and equitation riders across the U.S. compete year-long for an invitation to join the best of the best at "The Show Of Champions" in Harrisburg.

The Pennsylvania National Horse Show is a celebration of horse sports, featuring more than 1,400 of America's top horses and riders, unique entertainment, shopping, food, and family fun.

Eight national championships are decided at the PNHS. The American Horse Shows Association/Black Entertainment Television National Junior Jumper Championship, Saturday night Oct. 14, is one of only three USA Junior Olympics-Equestrian events, and features America's top under-18 jumper riders. More than 200 young riders culminate a year of competition on Sunday, Oct. 15, as they vie for the American Horse Shows Association/Eisers and Pessoa National Hunter Seat Equitation Medal Championship — one of the few events where the rider, rather than the horse, is judged.

Many of the young national champions go on to represent the U.S. in international and Olympic Grand Prix competition of the type featured at the PNHS nightly Tuesday, Oct. 17 through closing Saturday, Oct. 21. Spectators thrill to America's best Grand Prix jumper riders, including Olympic competitors, striving to win more than $115,000 in prize money by clearing jumps up to five feet high and six feet wide.

A week of varied equestrian competition begins Monday, Oct. 16, with Hunt Night, an evening of friendly rivalry for the mid-Atlantic's top foxhunting clubs. For about 150 years, foxhunting has remained a strong tradition in Pennsylvania, home to more hunts than any other state except Virginia. Teams and individuals test their hunting skills over fences, in North American fox hunting horn blowing championships, and in races over fences for Jack Russell terriers. Author Rita Mae Brown, a foxhunting enthusiast, is expected to make an appearance during Hunt Night.

Spectators will be treated to an amazing variety of equestrian athleticism. High-flying Grand Prix jumpers, fiery, high-stepping American Saddlebreds and their tiny Hackney pony cousins, thundering draft horses in hitches of one to six, easy-going western pleasure horses, and roadster horses and ponies who race around the ring at top speed take turns delighting and entertaining the audience. The $50,000 Budweiser Grand Prix de Penn National, the show's richest and most prestigious event Saturday night, Oct. 21, will be taped for broadcast on ESPN (the broadcast is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 12 at 6 p.m.).

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police will present their Musical Ride at the Pennsylvania National Thursday through Sunday nights, Oct. 19-21, their first appearance at the sow since 1982. The troupe of 32 horses and riders, with the support of founding sponsor Canadian Pacific, will perform a variety of cavalry drills and intricate formations at the trot and canter, all choreographed to music.

"The Sport of Kings" will thrill spectators as teams from Harrisburg and Lancaster play a heart-pounding chukker of fast-paced arena polo Wednesday night, Oct. 18. Always a crowd favorite, Jack Russell terriers race over fences Monday and Friday nights, Oct. 16 and 20. World Champion Rocky Dare will present a demonstration of reining, the newest equestrian sport to be sanctioned by the Federation Equestre Internationale (FEI).

Special family days at the horse show are Saturday, Oct. 14 and Friday night, Oct. 20. On both days, when competition and events are geared to kids, children will enjoy free pony rides and face painting. On Saturday, Oct. 14, one child under age 12 is admitted free with a paying adult.

An invitational class for local therapeutic riders will be Tuesday night, Oct. 17. Horse babies one-year-old and younger will be showcased in a futurity for young American Saddlebred horses Saturday afternoon, Oct. 21. The Valley Forge Military Academy and College Band will appear at the horse show on Saturday night, Oct. 21, as it has done for the last 52 years.

More than 50 boutiques travel from Palm Beach, Aspen, and points in between to display their jewelry, crafts, clothing, gifts, and horse equipment and give spectators an early start on their Christmas shopping.

General admission is $10, $5 for seniors and children ages 12 and younger, except Oct. 21, when all general admission tickets are $10. Reserved seating is available Grand Prix Night, Saturday, Oct. 21 — prices range from $15 to $25. All performances passes with reserved seating Oct. 21 are $100.

Attention
Dairy, Swine & Poultry Producers!
New Products Now Available...
With the addition of our new soybean processing facility, we now offer these products to meet your nutritional needs Manufacturing these products ourselves allows us to utilize locally grown soybeans and support our local agricultural community!

GOLDEN PRO 46 XP
This natural, mechanically extruded and expelled soybean product is experiencing great acceptance with local dairymen. A course golden colored meal with a 6% fat content, Golden Pro 46 XP is extremely palatable Golden Pro 46 XP is a natural way to bring the value of high by-pass protein into diets that require a lower fat level.

GOLDEN MEAL 40
An 18 percent fat content along with a 40 percent crude protein makes this mechanically extruded meal product a valuable component in a variety of rations Full fat content gives you a high level of digestible energy, while high temperature extruding ruptures the oil cells for better nutritional absorbtions

CRUDE SOYBEAN OIL
A product of Keystone's expelling process, this oil can be used in a wide variety of on farm applications A natural alternative to animal fats, this oil provides needed energy in various rations

To make these products available, and to help you utilize your home raised soybeans Keystone Mills announces its

Soybean Exchange Program

As manufacturers and distributers of Golden Pro 46 XP and Golden Meal 40, we are anxious for you to try our products We are offering a soybean exchange program featuring these quality nutritional products

Are you looking for a good harvest after last year's drought?
Our John Deere 9600 4WD Contour Master combine with low engine/separator hours and large threshing and cleaning capacity will put more clean grain in the tank and leave less behind in the field. Chopper and chaff spreader will also distribute crop residue evenly allowing your soil to dry out and warm up faster in the spring which will allow you a head start next year
Let me help Maximize your profit potential! Few combines can offer all of these features for 24 dollars per acre Doing the job right Satisfaction guaranteed
